OVER ADVERTISED

Whether a community can be over-advertised depends upon what is meant by advertising. If by advertising the truth is told and no more, there is no danger of too much advertising. If, however, exaggerated claims and statements are made, concerning either a town or an article of merchandise, that are not based upon facts, or that can not be proved, it is better to have left unsaid the statements and unsung the claims.

Weddings

Grant-Knight

A church wedding took place in the Congregational Church, Manchester, Mass., Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 5, when in the presence of nearly three hundred friend and relatives, the pastor, E. Milton Grant, son of Rev. and Mrs. Alsie Roland Grant of Shell Rock, Iowa, took for his bride Miss Mary Ames Knight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Perkins Knight of "Felseneck," Manchester, Mass., who spend their summers at their cottage on Lake Pennesseewassee.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Beecher Hodgdon on the organ, the bride, on the arm of her father, most daintily dressed in a dress of white satin, wearing a long bridal veil caught up with orange blossoms and carrying a shower bouquet, headed by her maid of honor, marched up the center aisle of the church to the front of the pulpit where the groom, with his best man, the Rev. Peter Palches of Brockton, was in waiting.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William E. Jones of the Dane Street Church, Beverly, the single ring service being used. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The bride's maid of honor and only attendant was Miss Dorita Fisher of Wollaston, a cousin of the bride.

The church was most beautifully decorated with evergreens, palms, begonias and bouvallias and was the work of Eric H. Wetterlow.

After the ceremony, a short reception was held in the church and the young couple left amid showers of confetti and the best wishes of their hosts of friends.

The ushers were Howard M. Stanley, Albert H. Reed, Richard L. Cheever, Thos. A. Lees, George A. Sinnicks, Dr. Frank Willis, Ed. J. Semons, Frederick J. Merrill, Dr. William MacIntyre, J. Alexander Lodge, Harry W. Purington, Hollis L. Roberts and Raymond C. Allen.

Knight-Hale

A wedding was performed by Rev. Edw. C. Camp, pastor of the Congregational Church of Cambridge, when he united in marriage, Saturday night, Dec. 1, Miss Margaret Elizabeth Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hale of Watertown, and George Warren Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Knight of "Pelsneck," Manchester, Mass. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, a large reception following at the Oakley Country Club.

The bride wore a gown of white transparent velvet trimmed with rose point lace, and fashioned with court train. The veil of Brussels lace, the gift of her aunt, Mrs. Walter H. Gleason, was held in place by small clusters of orange blossoms, and her bouquet contained bride's roses, sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Eleanor Daniel Glidden, the maid of honor, wore pale green velvet and carried a bouquet of stevia. and butterfly roses.

The bridesmaids were the Misses Eleanor Hale and Olive Burroughs, cousins of the bride; Miss Mary A. Knight, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Julia Mentzer. Their gowns were of honey-dew velvet and their flowers were Ophelia roses and lavender sweet peas. Miss Alice M. Tiebout of Brooklyn, N. Y., who was a classmate of the bride at Wheaton College, played the wedding music. The best man was Roland Knight, brother of the bridegroom. Mr. Hale gave his daughter in marriage, and six college friends of the bridegroom were ushers.

These included Messrs. Thos. H. Boyd of New York, Carleton Needham of Manchester, Charles Norman Fay of Brookline, William C. Ross, William L. Taggart, Jr., and George W. Humphrey, all of Cambridge. The engagement of Miss Hale to Mr. Knight was announced last December. The bride was graduated from Wheaton College in 1924, where she was active in athletic affairs. Mr. Knight completed a course at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1924. He and his bride will motor southward on their wedding trip, returning to their new home at 28 Holden Green, Cambridge, to be at home after January 1.

Mrs. Will Stone is gaining. Some few weeks ago she fell and broke three ribs.

State Highway Commission In Norway Thursday

The petitioners asked for the laying out of a State Highway connecting Norway with the western part of Oxford County.

It was held at Grange Hall, where a dinner was served. There was a good sized attendance and much interest manifest.

Our paper goes to press too early to make a report of what was done.

BOWLING SEASON OPENED

The Norway Bowlers went into action in team matches at the alleys, Friday night, with Bob McCready's outfit barely showing their heels to the five led by Paul Boynton. The result was 1377 to 1369 for three strings in favor of the McCready rollers, Huff landed the highest single with 116 and 306 for a total. Chaffin was second with 115 in a single while Ames made second place in the match with 297. Average for each player was better than 274.

The match was close from the start with the widest string margin of 11 pins in the opening session.

It is expected a team from Lewiston will play a return match here the last of the week.

The Atherton Six of Lewiston met defeat at the hands of the Norway Six in a bowling match at McCready's Alley, Wednesday evening. Norway, in three strings, cleaned up 1630 pins against 1509 of the visitors. All had a good time and the evening was enjoyed by players and gallery.

D. A. R. MEETING

The meeting of Abigail Whitman Chapter, D. A. R. was held Friday evening with Mrs. Harriett C. Brown. The roll call was Christmas suggestions, and proved very intresting. Mrs. Elizabeth Bartlett read stories of "Early Christmases." Mrs. Helena Nelson and Mrs. Alice Fuller read articles concerning the Martha Berry school, to which the chapter makes contributions. The chapter has carried out programs as suggested by the State on General Knox and Carolyn Scott Harrison. The members are to send a box to Ellis Island and articles will be taken to the Eliot A. Fuller store between now and the first of January. The articles specified are stamped pieces for embroidering, embroidery cotton and silk, yarn, all colors and in any quantity, cotton dress materials, in not less than yard lengths, crochet hooks, and sewing equipment, needles, scissors, thimbles, etc. Mrs. Elizabeth Bartlett is to pack the box.

COUNCIL CAMP FIRE

The Abnaki Campfire Girls are holding weekly meetings, and several new members have joined this fall. Good progress is being made with the bead head bands. The "Council Fire" will be held December 26, at the home of Mrs. Nelson, Guardian, and honor beads will be awarded. It is expected some of the new members will take the first rank of Wood Gatherer.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

At the regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary on Wednesday evening, plans were formed for the coming year. Beginning the first of January a study of the Flag and Constitution will be taken up, a short time at each meeting being devoted to this work. A supply shelf will be started and meetings held each Wednesday for business, work and sociability.

On Wednesday, Dec. 19, the Auxiliary will join the Oxford Auxiliary in the presentation of Susie's Kitchen Cabinet Band at the Grange Hall in Oxford.

Obituary

Mrs. Annie L. Thibodeau

Mrs. Annie Lauretta Thibodeau passed away Wednesday morning, Dec. 12, at the home of Fred Pierce, North Norway, after only a few days' illness.

Mrs. Thibodeau was born in Norway in 1849, the daughter of Samuel Perkins and Charlotte Cushman Frost, who lived at Frost Hill, which was named for her ancestors who were among Norway's early settlers. She attended the Norway schools and married William Thibodeau. They resided for many years on Water Street in the house now owned by Arthur Morgan, and Mr. Thibodeau was employed at the B. F. Spinney shoe factory, after this firm moved from Norway, Mr. and Mrs. Thibodeau went to Brockton, where he died a number of years ago.

About a year and a half ago Mrs. Thibodeau returned to Norway and was with Mrs. Mary Bennett until a few weeks ago, when she went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce.

She leaves a brother, Fred Frost, who lives on the home farm on Frost Hill, another brother in Massachusetts, and a sister, Mrs. Mason Frost, of Norway.

The funeral will be held Friday, Dec. 14, at one o'clock, at Leroy Spiller's Funeral Parlors. Burial will take place at Rustfield Cemetery.

UNIVERSALIST CHRISTMAS SALE

The Annual Sale given by the ladies of the Universalist Church was held in the vestry, Wednesday aafternoon and evening, and was well patronized.

Green and red was the color scheme of the decorations above the middle booth, and about the stage where a tea room was located. A balustrade around the stage front, pierced by an arch way at the steps, leading from the floor, was effective. Edward McCormack, Glenn McIntire and Dorothy Tucker planned the decorations and had willing assistants, while getting many yards of crepe paper into tasteful combinations.

The food booth in charge of Mrs. Retta Jackson provided many tempting things for the home table.

Delicious fudge predominated at the candy table where Mrs. Mollie May and her assistants catered to both old and young.

Three tables in the center of the vestry were just loaded with fancy work selected especially for Christmas gifts of the practical kind. Mrs. Elizabeth Sampson, Mrs. Lotta Ashton and many assistants were kept busy attending to good patronage.

Aprons covered another long table for a short time, or until the crowd gathered and carried away much of the stock. There was a large variety in style and shades. Mrs. Honor Downing was chairman of the committee in charge.

Handy to the door was the mystery corner where, suspended from a line were packages, large and small, containing some unusual articles that tempted the young folks. Much small change was collected from the line. A lively committee to make the department go, included Misses Caroline Downing, Mary Hill, Ruth Russell, Vera Merrill, Margaret Russell, Clara Adkins, Dorothy Tucker, Thurley Tucker and Eva Jackson.

Refreshments were served in the attractive tea room on the stage, where numerous small tables were patronized to capacity. The waitresses were Miss Marion Haskell, Mrs. Ruth Huston, Mrs. Pauline McCormack, Mrs. Beatrice Cummings, Miss Winona Flanders and Miss Madelyn Hayden. A committee that provided the good things was in charge of Mrs. Alma Packard, her assistants were Mrs. Marion Heath, Mrs. Frances Twitchell, Mrs. Pearl Kilborn, Mrs. Rose Everett, Mrs. Abbie Heath and Mrs. Bessie Hill.

The second part of the annual event will be held this Thursday evening, commencing with a supper at 6.30. There will be baked beans, salads, hot rolls and pastry, in charge of Mrs. Mary Melvin. Mrs. Maude DeCoster and Miss Della M. Noyes.

Everybody will enjoy the comedy drama, "The Prince of Liars," that follows. A strong cast has been selected to make laughs and produce good cheer.

MAIL EARLY FOR CHRISTMAS

Postmaster Philip F. Stone urges the early mailing of matter intended for delivery before Christmas. Here are some suggestions:

Christmas Cards

Patrons sending a quantity of Christmas cards, say 10 or more, should prepare and mail them weeks in advance, as millions are mailed and they can not possibly be handled and delivered if mailed only two or three or four days before Christmas. To avoid this, patrons may mail their cards two weeks before Christmas, if delivered to the post office or postal station in person, or tied together in a bundle, labeled to show that they are Christmas cards, and deposited in a street letter or package box. They will then be segregated, stamped with the date on which to be delivered, and delivery effected one or two days before Christmas.

Christmas cards and gifts addressed to points within one day's travel should be mailed in no event later than December 20; within two days' travel, not later than December 18; within three days' travel, not later than December 16; for more distant points, not later than December 14. Parcels and cards for local delivery should be mailed not later than December 21. Parcels and envelopes may be indorsed, "Please do not open until Christmas."

Matter Not Mailable at Parcel-Post Rates

Written matter in the nature of personal correspondence can not be inclosed in parcels.

Communications attached to parcels: A letter placed in an envelope, addressed to correspond with the address on the parcel and fully prepaid at the first-class rate, may be tied or otherwise securely attached to the outside of the parcel in such manner as to prevent separation therefrom and not obscure the address on the parcel.

ASKING FOR A CHANGE

E. W. Furbush of Greene is having petitions signed asking the incoming Legislature for a change in the fish and game laws.

Resident license to be $2.00 per year for all over 16 years.

License fee to be paid to the town or city treasurer.

Fingerling fish, trout, togue and salmon to be bought of the State or where they can be obtained the cheapest.

The Boy Scouts reorganized, Wednesday evening, with twenty-one members of the former troop in line to keep the work along. Alfred Dyer is Scoutmaster and Arsene Blaquire assistant. Meetings will be held every Tuesday evening in the dining hall at the American Legion Home. Membrs of William Henry Stone Post, American Legion are interested in the movement and will render all possible assistance.

Christmas—the Season of Goodwill and Hospitality

CHRISTMAS is with us again. And as it spreads abroad throughout this community its joyous tidings of good will to all, let us join wholeheartedly in its spirit.

Let each stranger who enters our gates know that in this community the goodwill spirit of Christmas is not just a passing impulse effective during the holidays, but that it is a day by day fact throughout the entire year.

On another page of this issue, you will see how the business men of the community have united to present our welcome and a Merry, Merry Christmas to all. We can do our share toward making this Christmas good feeling a year 'round event, by showing Christian charity and fellowship to those with whom we come in contact each day.

We can make this community renowned for its hospitality—and our reward will come to us here on earth, for it will make the entire community more prosperous and happy.

Norway Church Items

Methodist Episcopal

Sunday morning the pastor will speak on a special subject taken from the book of Proverbs, "He that Slandereth is a Fool."

Sunday evening the intermediate and senior Epworth Leagues will meet at 6.15. Miss Grace Howard led a good meeting last Sunday on "Playing the Game Fair and Clean."

The Church School has gone over the one hundred mark, the goal set is one hundred fifty.

Tuesday night the Home Mission Society held their annual supper in the Community Hall. Mrs. O. L. Stone, C. Muirhead and Carrie Philbrook had charge of the kitchen. A very happy and profitable evening was spent together. The pastor suggested the study of some book for the following year, also the wider use of the stereopticon picture machine and this plan will be adopted in the future.

Tonight (Thursday) will be the last of the series of meetings on the Psalms. Next Thursday night will be a Christmas message and the following week will be the New Year Message. Beginning with the first Thursday in the New Year, pastor Singleton will give a series of ten talks on "Ten Greatest Sayings of Jesus." Why not start the Thursday night habit of "goin' to meetin'" The room is warm, cozy and well lighted and a good fellowship. The entrance is on Beal Street, next door to the parsonage.

The annual Christmas tree will be held Monday evening, December 24th. Time, 6:30. Committees: Christmas boxes, Miss Gertrude Howard. Christmas Tree, Rupert Aldrich, Wesley Singleton and the Scout Class. Candy, Pastor. Decorations, Mrs. G. Allen, Miss Bisbee, K. Howard and L. Dow

Santa Claus has consented to be present and "on time."

Sunday morning, December 23rd, will be annual Christmas services, special message by the pastor on "Christmas and Its Relation to Motherhood, Childhood and Laborhood." Special singing of Christmas Carols by the choir. The full program will be printed next week.

Sunday evening at 7:30 Union Service at the Congregational Church, Rev. Pliny Allen, the preacher; Rev. Raymond Morgan in charge.

The Ladies' Aid met Thursday at Community Hall for work. The last meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Freeman Smith. There were twenty present and dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. William Card entertained her Sunday school class at her home on Water Street, last Friday night.

The Mens' Christian Service Bible Class of the Methodist Church will hold a Radio Service Sunday morning, at 9.00 in the main church auditorium. The Service is open to all who would like to listen in on the session of the 13 Bible Class of Portland.

Next Wednesday afternoon and evening, the ladies will hold a "Just Before Christmas Sale." Many articles, useful and ornamental will be on sale. In the evening there will be a Rally and Reception to all Sunday School scholars and their parents. We wish especially for the parents of our children to be present. The contest winner will be announced.

Universalist

Rev. Pliny Allen, Jr., will take for his text "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life" for the 10 o'clock service, Sunday. "The Larger Faith" will be the subject of his sermon for the union evening service in the Congregational Church at 7.30 p. m.

Mary Hill will lead the Y. P. C. U. meeting at 6 o'clock. Topic, "Faith and Power."

A candlelight service will be held in the church at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Dec. 23, when the pageant "In the City of David" will be presented. It is expected that a string orchestra will furnish special music. The Misses Sarah True, Marion Haskell, Laurestine Foster and Mrs. Marguerite McIntire have charge of arranging the program.

The Christmas supper and tree for the church school will be held Friday evening, Dec. 21. Mrs. Marion Holt is taking charge of the entertainment.

Mrs. Harriet Waite, Dorothy Tucker and Zilpha Bicknell have worked hard repapering some of the stage scenery for use in the drama Thursday evening, "A Prince of Liars," is a sure guarantee to make you laugh.

Congregational

About 70 men attended the mens' supper in the Congregational Church, Wednesday evening. Rev. Rensal H. Colby, pastor of the South Paris Congregational spoke on "A Man's Job." He declared it a man's job to carry on the work of the church and parish. A committee consisting of Ed. Burnell, L. Fred Pike, Dr. A. W. Easton, W. H. Edminster, M. Paragard, E. L. Brown, and Fred S. Brown were appointed to look after the arranging of another meeting sometime in February. The pastors of the local Methodist and Universalist churches were present, as the guests of the pastor, Raymond Morgan. Charles Libby was in charge of the kitchen.

"Jesus' Appeal to Youth" will be the sermon topic at the 11 o'clock service Sunday morning. A report of the Older Boys' Conference in Portland, recently, will be made at this service. The Sunday School meets at 10 a. m.; Juniors at 3 p. m. and young people at 6 p. m.

The Kiwanis Luncheon was held Thursday noon at the Norway Grange Hall. The dinner was in charge of Mrs. Emma Swan. The speaker was Hon. Clyde H. Smith, chairman of the State Highway Commission.

Mrs. Eugene N. Swett entertained the Barton Reading Club, Thursday afternon. The roll call was answered by quotations from Don Seitz and Mrs. Swett gave a reading from his works.

Wearie's Give Candy

Christmas morning between 9 and 10 o'clock will be the candy hour at the Weary Club, Norway.

All the children in town under ten are invited to call and receive a box. The invitation includes babies in arms. Come.

AUTOMATIC REFRIGERATION

Food preservation by means of mechanical refrigeration is becoming generally recognized as health insurance, according to Robert E. Hight, field representative of Frigidaire Corporation, who was a business visitor here Wednesday.

"Automatic refrigeration in the home is no longer to be regarded as a luxury or a summer time necessity," he said. "People are beginning to realize that state and federal inspection of food cannot safeguard the family's health, if its protection is neglected after it reaches the home."

While here the Frigidaire representative called upon George Hill of the Norway Buick Company, local dealer. The general outlook for the electric refrigeration industry is very good, he said with a steadily growing demand for both household and commercial refrigerating equipment.

New household models recently announced by Frigidaire Corporation are proving the most popular the organization has ever produced, he declared.

"This radically changed and vastly improved electric refrigerator evidently represents what a multitude of people have been thinking about and waiting for," he said. "It is quiet to the superlative degree. There is absolutely no hint of the mechanical in its appearance. It will deliver ample refrigeration under all circumstances. And it is backed by the reputation and resources of General Motors which insure long life and satisfactory performance."

REV. MR. BALTZER GOES TO BROCKTON

Rev. M. O. Baltzer, a former pastor of the Second Congregational Church of Norway, will begin his work next Sunday with the World's Congregational Church of Brockton, Mass. He has been at Randolph, Mass., since 1921. Mr. Baltzer came to Norway from Mexico, Me., where he remained nearly two years and resigned to accept the call to Randolph. He is a graduate of Bowdoin College, holds the degree of S. T. D. from Andover Theological Seminary and Harvard University. He also has studied at Boston University.

SPECIAL STAR MEETING

Oxford Chapter, Order Eastern Star, will hold a special meeting, Saturday evening at Masonic Hall, for inspection. Grand Matron Bertha B. Howell of Portland will be the inspecting officer. Buffet lunch will be served following the work and the committee, Mrs. Maude Decoster, Mrs. Annie Knight and Mrs. Floy Towne request the members not solicited to carry refreshments.

Eight inches or more of snow arrived with a northeast gale early Monday morning. Drifting commenced as the weather cleared with a west wind and some roads have been practically snowbound for everything except sleds. Morning papers from Portland reached town late because the trolley cars to Lewiston were held up by the snowfall, it is said. The state road was plowed out before night.

Inter-Church Basket Ball

Some lively basket ball is expected in the Inter-Church Basket Ball League that opens the season this Thursday evening in the high school gym at 7 o'clock.

The curtain raiser is Universalist vs. Congregational with the Methodist and Baptist for the second encounter the same evening.

Those eligible to play must have some association or affiliation with the church they represent. The age limit is placed at eighteen. No member of the high school basket ball team is permitted to play.

The ministers and captains of the four churches and teams constitute a council to which any team may refer a grievance. Two games are to be played every Thursday evening during the winter.

Sleds and Skis for State Wards

One hundred sleds and fifty pairs of skis were sent by parcel post from the South Paris postoffice, Friday, each bundle directed individually to a child now cared for by the state.

The Santa Claus behind the gifts is Grube B. Cornish of Augusta, secretary of the state department of public welfare. He personally selected the goods at the Paris Manufacturing Co., and provided the tags with postage attached.

The shipment was delivered to the postoffice with a truck and was one of the largest lots of parcel post matter ever sent from this office.

Mrs. Clara S. Doble

After having been for a long time in feeble health, Mrs. Clara S. Doble died at her home on Gothic Street, Monday, Dec. 10, at the age of 84 years.

Mrs. Doble was the daughter of Cyrus and Sophia (Bragg) Dunn, and was born in Dixfield, March 16, 1844. She had lived in the town of Paris for about fifty-seven years, coming here from Peru. She married Abram H. Doble, who died some years ago.

Two children survive Mrs. Doble, Annie wife of O. K. Clifford, and Sophia, wife of Frank S. Clark, both of South Paris. There are two grandchildren, Harold C. Fletcher of South Paris, and Louis W. Clark of Hyattsville, Md., who has a position in Washington, D. C.

The funeral of Mrs. Doble was held at 1:30 Wednesday, attended by George Riley of the Universalist Church, which was the church of Mrs. Doble's choice. Burial in Riverside Cemetery.

Mrs. Henrietta C. Stiles

Mrs. Henrietta C. Stiles died at her home on River Street, South Paris, on Monday, the 3rd, after a long period of failing health. She was born in Freeport, October 9, 1852, the daughter of Reuben and Mark Skillings, but had lived in South Paris for about forty-eight years.

She married William H. Stiles, who died some years ago. She had no children. Two sons and a daughter of Mr. Stiles are living, Moses P. Stiles and Curtis Stiles, both of Portland, and Lelia, wife of Leon Glover, of Brookline, Mass. A girl, Mabel, now Mrs. Edward M. Rand of South Paris, was taken at an early age by Mr. and Mrs. Stiles, and spent her girlhood as a member of their household.

Mrs. Stiles attended the Methodist Church as she was able, but owing to the condition of her health, was seen but little outside her home.

The funeral was held at Huff's funeral home on Wednesday, attended by Rev. M. Gerry Plummer of the Methodist Church.

Marion E. Wheeler, Mrs. F. S. Dudley, Mrs. Carrie Dudley and Mrs. James E. Mason were in Portland, Saturday.

J. Henry Edwards of Greenfield, Mass., was a week end visitor of Mr. and Mrs. James Millett.

Rev. R. H. Colby conducted religious services at the jail, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Dorothy Dean was home from Gorham Normal School for the week end.

The Community Christmas Tree for Market Square arrived Monday and will soon be illuminated with colored lights.

The Good Cheer Sale was held in the Sunday school room at the Universalist Church, Tuesday afternoon. There were various booths where useful and ornamental articles found ready sale. A pancake supper was served from 5:30 to 6:30 and in the evening a play entitled "Joan Valjean" was omitted because of a member of the cast being ill. Mrs. Esther Tower Anderson of Norway graciously presented a program of readings.

Miss Helen M. King of Portland was the Community Club speaker at the meeting in Odd Fellows' Hall, Tuesday afternoon. Her subject was "Health Service for the School Child" with a direct bearing on child welfare. This was the last meeting before holiday recess that extends to January 8.

Marguerite Shaw entertained twelve girls at her home Saturday evening, it being her twelfth birthday. Games were played and a jolly good time was enjoyed. Refreshments were served including a birthday cake with twelve candles. She received many gifts. The guests were Marion Hayes, Barbara Colby, Carlene Farnham, Josephine Rand, Esther Woodworth, Arlene Butts, Charlotte Oswell, Jeannette Goldsmith, Helen Merrill, Ruth Mills and Winona Oliver.

George Wright, aged 13, son of George Wright, underwent an operation Sunday for mastoiditis at the Central Maine General Hospital, and is a private patient of Dr. Grant.

Susie's Kitchen Kabinet and scored a success at the Congregational vestry, Friday evening in an entertainment as part of the annual Christmas Sale. There was the ensemble conducted by Mrs. Bernice Wilson and a galaxy of soloists appeared with a large variety of novel instruments all not altogether musical. Miss Reta Shaw was at the piano and Mrs. R. H. Colby read the book. A supper at 6:30 was largely attended. The sale held on Thursday was a success.

On Thursday evening, Dec. 6, Mt. Mica Lodge, No. 7, I. O. O. F., served a supper at 6:30, which was enjoyed by some 150 members. At 8 p. m., Lewiston Lodge, No. 25, worked the third degree in a very able manner on two candidates from South Paris. The Grand Master, Joseph E. Odiorne from Cooper's Mills, gave a very interesting talk on the general welfare of the lodge. There were other short speeches by the Deputy Grand Master, Joshua Winship, from Westbrook, District Deputy Grand Master Hollis B. Doughty from West Paris, Noble Grand Judge Fales of the Lewiston Lodge and Past Grand Thompson of Lewiston Lodge. Rev. E. B. Tetley of the South Paris lodge closed the evening by an enjoyable talk on brotherhood.

Mrs. Leslie L. Mason and Donald Mason are attending the toy show in New York.

Wyonegonic Club Entertains—Jacksons in New Home—Parent-Teachers' Meeting—Miss Gray Dead—Bungalow Playhouse Leased.

The Wyonegonic Literary Club entertained the Bridgton Literary Club at Grand View Manor, the home of one of the members, Mrs. H. R. Denison, on Dawes Hill, Thursday. A delightful day was enjoyed by about thirty members of the clubs. This charming Manor made an ideal place for such a gathering, and everything, even the weather was perfect. The club flowers, carnations, were used for decorations. A delicious lunch of chicken patties, peas, potato chips, sandwiches, jello and coffee was served at one-thirty and the time was passed with sewing, stunts and sociability. Among those present were: Mrs. Bertha T. Clark, Mrs. Jessie G. Talcott, Mrs. Mary Butterfield, Mrs. Blanche C. Bridge, Mrs. Rosa I. Burnham, Mrs. Angie L. Locke, Mrs. Lotta I. Pike, Mrs. Georgianna S. Webb, Mrs. Georgia C. Richmond, Miss Alice M. Bradstreet, Mrs. Mary I. Doughty, Mrs. Hallie M. Corliss, Mrs. Augusta A. Newcomb, Mrs. Alice P. Ingalls, Mrs. Helen M. Shorey, Mrs. Winifred B. Plummer, Mrs. Mary Clark, Miss Eva Shorey and Miss Ethel Noone, all of Bridgton, and Mrs. Annah Whitney, Mrs. Gertrude B. Clark, Mrs. Hattie T. Freeman, Mrs. Elizabeth F. Pitts, Mrs. Ada A. Whitney, Mrs. Nan Hunter, Mrs. Martha Bennett, Mrs. Anna Dudley and the hostess, Mrs. Cora M. Denison.

Miss Alice Bradstreet of Bridgton, spent the past week with her friend, Anna Dudley.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Bennett have returned from Providence, R. I., where they visited friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jackson have moved from Norway to their new home on Elm Street, where they are making extensive repairs.

The Parent-Teachers' Association met at Woodland Hall, Monday evening. The resignation of Mrs. Leroy Perley, treasurer, was read and accepted and Miss Hilda Boothby was appointed in her place. The banner for parents present went to the Primary School, Miss Boothby, teacher. Committees for the year were appointed as follows:

Membership Committee—Mrs. William Morrison, Miss Beatrice Wyman, Mrs. Clifford Denison, Mrs. Ernest Gay, Mrs. Roy Johnson and Mrs. Genie Burnham.

Program Committee—Mrs. Clifford Denison, Mrs. Bert M. Davis, Miss Eva Jones and Mrs. F. P. Freeman.

Hospitality Committee—Mrs. O. C. Robbins, Mrs. Earl Davis, Mrs. Wm. P. Smith, Mrs. Elmer O. Stuart, Mrs. Clarence Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gay, Clifford Denison.

Publicity Committee—Mrs. Everett Chapman, Mrs. Marshall Pitts, Mrs. Nathaniel Whitney.

The teaching of music in the schools was discussed and more will be done at the January meeting.

Miss Elizabeth P. Gray passed away at Washington, D. C., on Thursday. Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at the home of her cousins, Hollis H. and Emily E. Caswell on Elm Street, conducted by Rev. L. W. Witham. Miss Gray was born in Harrison, October 4, 1869, the daughter of the late Samuel Gray and Fidelia Gray Dawes, and lived here for a number of years, graduating from Bridgton Academy. For many years she had lived in Washington, D. C., where she was Curator at the Public Library there. Her friend, Miss Margaret Skinner, also her cousins, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Sylvester and Mrs. Harrison Whitney of Portland attended the funeral. Burial was at Harrison Cemetery.

Arthur T. Smith is attending the State Grange at Augusta this week as a delegate from Lakeside Grange.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ward are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, December 9th. Mrs. Ward and daughter are at Mrs. S. O. Stuart's on Waterford Road.

Dwight Storer of Buckfield has leased the Bungalow Play House for a year and will conduct a fine run of moving pictures on Tuesdays and Saturday evenings. This winter on Saturday evenings, after the movies he will have dancing, and patrons are looking forward to pleasurable times.

Industrial advantages of the Smaller centers of population == of which Maine has many

LOWER costs, greater productive efficiency—these are reasons for locating your factory away from congested centers of population. Widespread power distribution and improved transportation facilities have fitted the smaller centers of population for industrial purposes.

Where living costs are lower, a lower wage scale buys more than high wages in the large cities. Where living conditions are pleasant and home-owning within the reach of moderate incomes workers are conservative, productive, permanent. Where getting to and from work is unhurried and uncongested, valuable human energy is conserved.

Land is cheaper, taxes are lower, shipping facilities often less crowded, room for expansion plentiful.

All Day Grange Meeting—Supper and Entertainment Well Attended—Monthly Gathering Held—Chimney Fire at Young's.

West Paris Grange No. 298 held an all day meeting last Saturday. After the regular business in the forenoon, the annual election of officers was held. About fifty took dinner. The program in the afternoon was as follows:

Song, "Battle Hymn of the Republic".Grange
Musical Reading, "The Outcast" ..Interlocutor
Song, "Home Sweet Home" .....Grange
Mrs. Martha Kendall, Mrs. Anna W. White
Question, Is the Cash Customer entitled to better prices than the man who gets credit? If so, how can he secure it? Opened by John McKeen, followed by several and it was a very interesting discussion.
Song, "It Is Good to Be a Granger" .....Grange
Speech, Voting Facts About Ward 2 of the Town of Paris .....Harold C. Perham
Musical Reading, "Smiles" .....Mrs. Mary Swift, Mrs. Kendall and Mrs. White.
Two Stories .....Oscar Church
Essay on "Peace, Not War" ..Mrs. Mary Perham
Piano Solo .....Mary Patch
Song, "Bless Be the Tie That Binds" .....Grange
Mary Patch accompanied all the music.

There were for visitors 17 from Pleasant Pond Grange, West Sumner, and six or seven from other granges. All had a good time.

Frank McKenney, who has suffered with a series of shocks for several years past, had a final one last Saturday morning while being dressed, which was very bad. His son, Wirt S. McKenney, of Boston, and daughter, Margie Ellingwood, of Auburn, were sent for at once. He knew them when they first came and lingered until Tuesday night in an unconscious state. A trained nurse whom he had had twice before came to help care for him.

An all day session of the Good Will Society was held with Rev. E. P. Parlin last week, Wednesday. Comforters were tied and a thread party enjoyed in the afternoon.

The Parent-Teacher Association gave a supper and entertainment in Centennial Hall, Monday night, and in spite of the storm which had hindered the school sessions, there was a surprising lot in attendance and they made a good sum for the association. After supper, a short business session was held in which several matters for the benefit of the children were brought up, one was a "no school" signal for stormy days not fit for pupils to come, which was left to a committee of three to decide, who were the principal, Dwight Libby; president Herbert Hill, and Harold Perham. A program followed, consisting of two exercises by the Primary Grades and Boy Scout demonstrations led by Edward Burnham, assisted by Thomas Verrill, all of which was very interesting.

The ministers' monthly gathering was held at the Universalist Church last week Monday, Dec. 3. Those present were Rev. and Mrs. W. I. Bull of Waterford, Rev. Pliny Allen, Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Morgan, Rev. John Singleton of Norway, Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Colby, Rev. George Riley, South Paris, Rev. James W. Parr and Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes of West Paris.

Archie Felt of Lewiston was the guest of E. J. Mann last week, Friday night.

Mrs. Laura Houghton and Mrs. Annie Willis were in Auburn last Friday.

Sherman Thomas, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Emery, has been very sick with bronchial pneumonia. His grandmother, Mrs. Anna B. Perkins, of Gorham, N. H., came to help care for him.

William Thomas, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Wright W. Flavin, has been quite sick with bronchitis but is improving now.

Bert Barker is poorly and hasn't been able to work for several weeks.

R. L. Cummings is building a barn on the lot near the mill house. He has also been working on the house which he is going to make into two rents of five rooms and a bath each.

A chimney fire in Robert Young's rent in Charles Curtis' house, better known as the Hezekiah Farrar house, broke out Monday forenoon. The fire alarm was sounded and men hurried to their assistance. It was brought under control before any damage was done to speak of.

Charles Bane, who has been suffering with a lame knee, caused by a hurt in the feldspar mine, and hasn't been able to work with it for more than two months, went to the hospital to consult Dr. Abbott, in Portland, a few days ago, and had his knee operated on Tuesday. Mr. Bane accompanied him and remained until after the operation.

WEST PARIS—HIGH STREET

Miss Ella Berry spent the day Tuesday, with Charles Marshall and family.

Mrs. Mary McKeen is not as well as she has been.

Saimi McKeen is staying home until after Xmas from her school.

Elmer Ingalls is having a rally installed in his home.

Mrs. Harry Emery is gaining slowly.

There was a good attendance at Pease school sociable, Friday evening.

KIWANIANS ELECT OFFICERS

Officers for the coming year were elected at the weekly luncheon of the Norway-Paris Kiwanis Club in Odd Fellows' Hall, South Paris, Thursday. This was the annual meeting and considerable business was transacted, following the luncheon served by the Universalist Good Cheer Society. Music furnished by Hebron Academy Orchestra was greatly appreciated.

Officers elected are:

Past Pres.—Hugh Pendexter.
Pres.—Dr. D. M. Stewart.
Vice Pres.—Dr. A. W. Easton.
Treas.—Fred E. Smith.
District Trustee—Bertrand G. McIntire.
Directors—Harold C. Fletcher, Leroy Spiller, Walter L. Gray, George F. Eastman, Merton A. Millett, Glenn R. McIntire, Charles F. Cummings.

The returns from the Christmas Health Seals sent out has been very good, although about half of the number sent out have not yet been heard from. These seals may be placed on the backs of envelopes and cards and anywhere on packages.

Albert J. Stearns and Stephen O. Jellerson were among the Oxford County people chosen incorporators at the annual meeting of the Central Maine General Hospital, last week.

The report circulated in a Portland daily paper that the W. F. Tubbs Co. bought the stock and some fixtures of the Penobscot Snowshoe Co., of Milton, is not correct, according to those in a position to know.

Elizabeth Crockett Blake Tent, Daughters of Union Veterans, will hold regular meeting Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The annual election of officers will take place. Plans will be made for the Christmas observance.

Rupert Robbins and two children of Poland, and Miss Gertrude Robbins of Auburn, called on their mother, Mrs. Angie Robbins, Sunday.

Miss Lola D. Smith, who has been with her sister, Mrs. Lindsay Morse, since September, has returned to the home of her parents.

Lewis and Louise Knightly, twin grandchildren of Mrs. Sarah B. Farnum visited her last week.

Mrs. Sarah B. Farnum, Greenleaf Avenue, has gone to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Hersey, North Waterford for the winter. Her granddaughters, Louise and Margaret Knightly, will occupy her rooms in her Greenleaf Avenue home this winter.

Miss Grace Newton, who teaches in Stoneham, spent the week-end with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Newton, Highland Avenue.

Dorothy Merrill, daughter of Perley Merrill, has been very ill the past week.

Mrs. Stuart Skillings has been absent from her duties at the Norway National Bank to care for Mr. Skillings, who had his tonsils removed, Monday.

Miss Emma Elizabeth Porter spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hight of Portland. They brought her home, Sunday, and visited Mrs. Harriott Porter, Water Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morse of Welchville will occupy the upstairs rent in the Pratt house on Bridge Street, to be vacated by E. C. Murch and family who will move down stairs into the rent recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Morrill L. Greenleaf.

Harry Lovejoy: "The filling of a popular demand was the placing of stop signs at every street intersection and at every place where an alley joins a street. It has been done."

Do you know that Elgin Greenleaf, who never drinks anything stronger than coffee says he once saw at Sugar Island a rabbit up a tree and on the rabbit's head, between his ears, sat a mouse.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

How the head of a large family earning $20 or less a week can buy an automobile, talking machine or an expensive radio, is worrying Charles Verenis, the fruit dealer. He figures that if household expenses are squared every week, less than $3 will remain for insurance, miscellaneous bills and ethical improvement. How do people do it, is Charles' query.

Charles Noble of New York City, representing the Oriental Pearl Co., called Wednesday and placed an ad for this issue. He is located at The Mary Ellen Gift Shop for the Christmas season with an assortment of pearl necklaces and ear drops in desirable shades.

Capt. Mel Sampson has followed up the storm with a shovel and clearing snow from camp roofs along the lake shore. He reports that the wind kicked up drifts 3 feet deep on the roof of A. A. French's camp and nearly the same on the C. H. Brush buildings. "Never before moved so much snow after a comparatively light storm," quoth Mel. Wednesday, the last two camps to have the snow removed were L. G. Parent's and W. S. Kincaid's and they had an enormous amount to be removed.

Walter Sanborn in North Penn Reporter says:

"With twenty per cent of the Pennsylania farmers owning radio sets and more getting them every day, the demand for farm relief is bound to become increasingly insistent."

Old words with a new applied meaning:

"The introvert is a dreamer with drawing within himself.
The extrovert is a back slapper and go getter."
Into which class do you fit? Dreamer or slapper? Not flappers as that is feminine gender for dolled-up plaything.

Walter Sanborn in his paper says:

"I saw a potato farmer the other day and he tells me that Farm Relief has got to come along atooting and right away if he is going to be relieved," remarked Lem Toots this morning.
It is the same in this vicinity.

Judge Whitman says: "On Friday last, while going into one of the stores, I noticed the most popular citizen of Norway, crossing the street some distance below me. Remembering that his birthday was in December, when I got home I looked the matter up and found it was on that very day, and was so pleased that I hadn't overlooked it that I hung out my flag in honor of the occasion.

"I honor John A. Woodman for his good qualities and for his having been one of the three most popular landlords I have ever known. The other two were Otis True and Col. William Whitmarsh. Mr. Woodman is very moderate in his speech, as well as in his movements, and never loses his grip or his head,—things greatly to be admired, but the astonishing thing to me is, that though I am nearly nine years older than he is, he has always seemed like the man and I the boy."

Sent in: "The Advetriser last week was as fat as a woodchuck in clover time."

Don C. Seitz, of New York, says:

"We are beginning to feel the slack of the Holidays and the Stock Market has blown up as it was slated to do long ago, but has been held up by the tail by the banks. Some of them are going to get stuck in my opinion. The Federal reserve is losing members all of the time and the national banks which must belong to it find themselves outdone by those on the outside. It furnishes a pretty problem for someone to solve. They ought to shut up the exchange or limit it to legitimate buying and selling. It has always been a national menace and will continue to be until its activities are curtailed."

He have before us a timely, humorous article from the New York Times. It suggests the great metropolis have 3 mayors and gives reasons for the same. The article was written by Talbot Mundy, who at one time was a resident of Norway and an illustrious citizen of our little burgh.

We supposed he was lost in the waste lands of India or Africa and not in this glorious country of ours.

Why not come and see your Down East Yankee acquaintances? Come.

E. S. Cummings advertised in last weeks paper for a battery lost off his car and on sending pay for the ad added "Thanks. This brought back the battery."

R. T. Patten of Skowhegan is in Washington. He is a guest of the Gridiron Club of that city. He did not forget to send in a copy of the Sunday edition of the Washington Post. Figuratively, the paper is bigger than all outdoors with some of Canada annexed. It sells for 5 cents at home and 10 cents elsewhere. A bargain at either price!

Mr. Patten, no doubt is having the time of his life at the capitol, only equalled perhaps by his recent visit to Norway.

Mrs. Helen Davis of some Massachusetts town says she had in storage in Norway a $100.00 radio which she would sell for $25.00. She enclosed a dollar, requesting ad to be put in our Intelligence Column. It apparently being an untruth we demurred. We will not knowingly deceive our readers.

Some little time ago we published a similar ad where a radio had been left with a friend or relative, the owner having moved away. The ad was answered and it was learned the radio had had to be moved to another town—so said the reply—which proved to be only a fake—an unsatisfactory way to advertise the sale of radios. Ads of this nature have been running in many of the Maine papers.

Shorty Cook says: "I shaved two men, one after the other, whose ages totaled 168 years. Howard D. Smith is 83 and Henry Plummer 85. Both lived through the ordeal."

Who has seen a Wandering Jew in bloom? Mrs. Olney Burgess has a plant well covered with blossoms. The small flowers have three petals of a magenta shade and make quite an attractive display. This occurrance is said to be rare.

Joe Dubey leaves in the office an auto crank. It was found in the road, Wednesday morning. It awaits an owner.

While Don Partridge's hat is not yet in the ring, we feel sure that when it does go in, it will not be a brown derby; also that the aforesaid hat hangs on a convenient peg, ready at a moment's notice.

Miss Bella C. Davis, R. N., of Augusta, was a week-end guest of Miss Grace N. Wither, R. N., at Charles G. Blake's. Miss Davis was formerly Community Nurse here, and expects to be located at Winter Harbor for the winter.

Frank P. Stone returned Friday from his visit to the home of his son, Carl Stone, at Indianapolis, Ind. His daughter, Miss Beatrice Stone, who accompanied him stopped in New York and Connecticut for a short visit with relatives and friends.

Norway Lodge, No. 16, I. O. O. F. will hold card parties during the winter season, first one to take place Wednesday evening, December 19th.

Norway Lodge No. 16 I. O. O. F. will confer the initiatory degree Tuesday evening, December 18th.

Louis Goodman of Gary, Ind. was found guilty in the conspiracy case recently tried in Hammond, Ind. See story of local witnesses on page eight, first column.

NORTH WATERFORD

Fred P. Saunders

Fred P. Saunders, a native of Waterford, and a long time resident at North Waterford passed away at his home in Bridgton, Dec. 10, after an illness of two weeks.

He was born 59 years ago, the son of Joshua and Mary Kilbourne Saunders and was one of six sons, several of whom were associated in business much of their lives. He went to Bridgton 15 years ago and purchased the carpenter business of the late Jesse Murphy. This he enlarged and made into a dowel factory, employing a large number of workers.

He was a director of the choir at the Congregational church and also organized an orchestra of the young people of the villages, leading this. He was also associated with Allen P. Clark in the piano business. He was a member of the Masons and of the Bridgton Lions Club and a former member of the school board.

Mr. Saunders was twice married, his first wife being Miss Hattie Woodbury, who died some years ago. His second wife was Miss Isabel Woodbury who survives him. He leaves one daughter, Miss Beatrice Saunders, by the first marriage, and two by his second marriage, Constance and Anna; also by four brothers, Charles of Bridgton, Harry and Arthur of Westbrook and William of Washington, D. C.

The funeral, preceded by prayers at the home, was held at the Bridgton Congregational Church, Wednesday, at 2 p. m., attended by Rev. W. A. Richmond, pastor of the church.

NORTH LOVELL

Lillian McKeen is visiting her cousin, Ruth Rogerson, in Berlin, N. H.

Harold Hill received 100 per cent in spelling the week ending Dec. 7.

Amos McKeen and Clinton Andrews went fishing on Bradley Pond, Friday, and caught 13 pickerel all of good size.

Mrs. Levi Butters has been very sick with tonsilitis but is better now and hopes to be fully recovered soon.

Paul Adams and Lester Butters attended the Boys' State Conference in Portland, Saturday.

There was the usual nice time at the Circle and pictures, Friday night.

The remains of Mrs. Ada Hill were brought here from Bridgton, Dec. 4, and laid to rest beside her daughter in Pine Grove Cemetery. She was staying with her sister, Mrs. H. R. Andrews. She had a stroke of paralysis and lived a week. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews and a niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Plummer, came with the remains to North Lovell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Meserve and daughter went to Norway, shopping, Saturday.

Mrs. Susie Wilson of Center Lovell visited her son, Leland Wilson and family, and attended the Circle, Friday evening.

War On Tobacco

In the National Tribune, dated November 29, 1928, we read the following article—"War On Tobacco."

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will continue its fight on the tobacco habit. This was decided at the National Convention in Boston, last week. The women will carry on a vigorous campaign of education, "Seeking to reach the youth of America with the truth regarding the scientific effects of nicotine." They also urge strict enforcement of laws prohibiting the sale of tobacco to minors, and will appeal "to the womanhood of the nation to refrain from acquiring the tobacco habit in the interest of their own health and that of their children."

A feature of the educational campaign will be a poster depicting a young mother with a baby in her arms and a cigarette in her hand and around her head a halo of tobacco smoke. The caption for this picture will be, "Do We Want That Kind of Halo Around American Motherhood?"

Persons who are prone to laugh at this campaign against tobacco should not forget that there were plenty of scoffers when women started their fight on liquor many years ago.—(National Tribune.)

We think this campaign should receive the hearty support of the churches, schools, granges and other organizations for the education and advancement of the people of our town and county; and teachers who have the best welfare of our young people and little children at heart.

We trust the readers of our paper will give this subject their thoughtful and prayerful consideration. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these; ye have done it unto me."

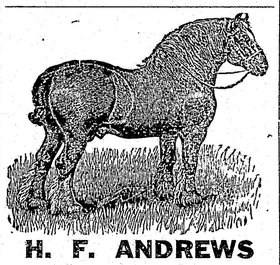

—Marilda Morse Holt.

A common and cruel neglect of cats is leaving them behind when families move or go away. Cats learn to depend on their friends and regard the home as their own. Their only idea is to stay and dumbly await their friend's return. So they often suffer from thirst and fear and cruel treatment by strangers, and sometimes starve to death.

Maine Gets Benefit

Large Amount of Maine Material and Labor Used In Building Dam

Some of the factories and mills in Maine are already feeling the effects of construction work on the Bingham hydroelectric development on the upper Kennebec which is now getting underway in earnest. Officials of the purchasing department of the Central Maine Power Company, which is building the construction, have given some figures of a few of the supplies and materials that will be used on the job.

One of the big items will be the immense amount of reinforced steel used throughout the construction period, something like 2,000 tons. Although not actually made in Maine it will probably be rolled in Maine mills, a big item, and hauled to the dam over the Maine Central railroad.

A thousand axes, cantdogs and shovels will be needed this winter. Over a million feet of Maine lumber, sawed in Maine's mills will be used within the next few months. Each week something like 150 tons of coal, brought to Maine by water to Portland thence hauled by railroad to Bingham, will be consumed. All this will be purchased from Maine concerns.

Maine's new cement plant at Thomaston will furnish around 150,000 barrels of cement. Tarpaulins to cover the poured concrete to keep it from freezing until it sets will be purchased in Maine.

As soon as the commissary department gets underway a large amount of meats, groceries, vegetables and potatoes will be consumed, probably caring for 1,000 mouths a week when the job is fully underway next year. Also the housing of the workers will mean many hundreds of woolen blankets and other materials which will be made in Maine mills.

It is estimated that between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 will be paid in wages during the construction period, practically all of it being circulated right here in Maine.

In all, labor, material and supplies to the amount of 75 per cent of the entire cost will be purchased in Maine. The balance 25 per cent, represents electric, hydraulic and other plant equipment which is not obtainable in Maine.

Local stores at Bingham and surrounding towns, hardware and machine shops have already felt the added demands while the local hotel and rooming houses are buzzing with engineers, drafting tables becoming a standard piece of furniture in practically every room.

"Inside" Information

Make sun suits from your romper pattern by cutting the legs very short and trimming out the neck and armholes as much as you can. Make the upper half of some transparent or thin material, such as fine lawn, cross-bar muslin, marquisette or net. The lower part should be of print or other opaque cotton goods of pleasing pattern. Make a sun hat to match, to shade the eyes. It should be light and washable. Let the children play in sun suits, after they have acquired a coat of tan, on any summer day when the temperature rises above 80 degrees F. Their legs may be bare or they may wear barefoot sandals without socks.

NORWAY VICINITY

A Great Law Case

Norway Witnesses in the West

The men who went to Hammond, Indiana, a week ago Saturday, as witnesses in the U. S. District Court there, returned the Friday following, at 5:30 p. m., on train from Montreal. It appears that the Norway Shoe Co., on the 15th of October, 1925, shipped by freight 22 cases of shoes, valued at $100, to Montgomery, Ward Co., of Kansas City, Mo. These shoes were stolen from a box car on the Grand Trunk lines.

The thieves were traced to a gang of professional crooks operating on the lines of roads running into Chicago, and three of them were taken, tried, sentenced and are now serving terms in the penitentiary. They gave information that one Louis Goodman, a millionaire department store Jew owner of Gary, Indiana, received the Norway stolen goods and others from seven other localities as their confederate and he was indicted for conspiracy.

Over 100 witnesses from various parts of the country were summoned. Goodman is being defended by very able lawyers. His defense is that he did not know that the goods he bought of the thieves were stolen.

"The Lake Times," a newspaper published at Hammond, is giving a full report of the trial from day to day and this is what it said of the testimony of the Norway witnesses:

"Shipping Clerk Testifies"

"George Rulison, Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. did the bulk of the examining for the Government in the morning session. His first witness was Victor M. Whitman, an employee of the Norway Shoe Co., holding the position of shipping clerk for the past six years. He has lived in the little Maine village for over fifty years." Whitman using a distinct New England brogue, (We thought that here East, the best English in the U. S. was spoken and that "brogue" was peculiarly a Western manner of speech) "told of the 22 cases of shoes mentioned in count 6 of the indictment, leaving the stock room of the factory and going to the freight office of the railroad company to be shipped West. He declared the shoes were 'McKay sewed,' brand and sold at a wholesale price of between $1.00 and $2.00. On cross examination by C. B. Tinkham, chief counsel for Goodman, the witness went into detail concerning the contents of the cases, how labeled, etc.

Couldn't Recall Shipment

"William H. Cushman, (Llewellyn) another Norway, Me. citizen, who hauled the shoes, after they were crated, to the depot, and who has lived in Norway for sixty-one years, told of taking the 22 cases to the depot and turned them over to Philip King, freight agent.

On cross-examination by Attorney Tinkham, Cushman admitted that he couldn't recall the particular shipment as he goes back and forth from the factory to the depot several times each day with loads. The witness said, however, that he might recall the bill of lading.

"'Have you seen the bill of lading?' Mr. Tinkham asked.

"'Yes, about a year ago,' the witness replied.

"Philip King, Norway, Me., trade clerk for the Grand Trunk, told about receiving the goods. The government, as Exhibit No. 1, showed him a bill of lading of the goods received. He told of putting the shoes into car No. 10056.

Others Examined

"Other witnesses examined were: J. E. Hammond, billing clerk to the chief clerk of Norway."

The Norway witnesses were each paid $151.80, ten cents a mile one way for travel, and eight days from home at $5 a day—just about enough for their expenses.

NORWAY GRANGE

There was a large attendance at the Grange last Saturday. After a short business session the first and second degrees were conferred on four candidates: Frank Buck, Ada Grover, Maggie Dyer and Eva Jackson. Then a dinner provided by Captain Ada Cox's members with Emma Swan as chairman, was served for Chaplain Abbott and his members and there was an abundance of delicious food, no one went away hungry.

After dinner the officers for 1929 were elected as follows:

Master—Arthur H. Holman.
Overseer—Howard A. Knightly.
Lecturer—Edith L. Knightly.
Steward—Arthur O. Buck.
Asst. Steward—Lewis E. Knightly.
Chaplain—Louise Gammon.
Treasurer—Edward H. Brown.
Secretary—Ella Perry.
Gate Keeper—Ferd Swan.
Ceres—Mabel Holman.
Pomona—Flora York.
Flora—Edith Buck.
Lady Assistant Steward—Louise E. Knightly.
Gate Keeper—Ferd Swan.
Pianist—Caressa Morgan.
Member of Executive Committee for three years—H. A. Knightly.

After the election of officers a short program was given, as follows:

Music
Eva Jackson, piano, and Dennis Pike, bones.
Duet..Mrs. Sol Jackson, Mrs. Carrie Jackson
Reading ..... Annie Brown
Vocal solo ..... Ethel Dunn
Stories....Mrs. Ira Hickford, Bethel Grange
Music .....Mrs. Alta Card, Lisbon Falls
Remarks ..... Mr. Card
Story ..... Arthur Holman

The next meeting is a Christmas meeting. There will be a program with a Christmas tree for both young and old.

All grangers and their children are invited to be present.

UNION SERVICE

There was a good attendance at the Union Community service held Sunday evening at the Congregational Church. The devotional service was led by Rev. Raymond Morgan, assisted by the vested chorus. The speaker of the evening was Rev. John W. Singleton, who took for his text, "God is Love."

These union services will be held at the Congregational Church each Sunday evening during the month of December at 7:30.

HUNT'S CORNER AND VICINITY

The subject of Rev. W. I. Bull's sermon was "The Importance of the Unimportant." He took the story of Neeman, the leper, for illustration, making an exceedingly interesting service.

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary were well attended, Tuesday evening of last week. A chairman for each month's activity was appointed by the president, Hazel Fittoon. The members of all unit committees were also named.

DENMARK

The Ladies' Circle of the Congregational Church held their annual Christmas Bazaar, Wednesday afternoon and evening, at the Grange Hall. A baked bean, salad and pastry supper was served at 6.30, followed by a social. Because of the rain and bad travelling, only about $20.00 was netted.

The seniors played their drama at Harrison, Thursday evening, but there was no crowd. Mr. Mitchell took them in his truck.

The Sunday School, Girl and Boy Campers and Girl Reserves are preparing a joint Christmas entertainment for the community tree. Mrs. Lindsay is coaching a play.

The children brought their Near East Relief envelopes to Sunday School generously filled with from pennies to half dollars.

Edith Blake led the Christian Endeavor meeting, "How Should a Christian's Christmas Be Different?" It was presented by a Bible Sunday observance program, entirely by the Juniors. A Christmas tree with gifts of "golden opportunities" added to the environment.

Word has been received from Mr. Wood that he has been very ill for a week from overwork. The children are sending him cards.

Mrs. Jennie Boynton of Brownfield, who has been caring for Mrs. R. A. True and baby, spent a few days visiting Mrs. Alta Wentworth, before returning home on Friday.

Many of the Odd Fellows visited the Bridgton Chapter, Saturday evening.

Card parties at the library Thursday afternoons have again been taken up.

This zipps from a hotel press agent. "A patron in a tenth floor room opened a window and a hundred dollar bill on his dressing table fluttered out. He caught an elevator and raced out into the street in time to catch it as it drifted down." A neat trick even if he didn't do it.

HOW OLD IS "OLD"?

A life insurance statistician fixes 65 as the age at which persons begin to become old. However, that is his opinion merely. Many persons more than 65 would not concede themselves as old. They would set the date considerably ahead, as younger persons would lower it. Sometimes persons of 50, or even less, are referred to as "aged." The designation depends on the personal view of the person expressing it. To the child the elder brother may appear old. Old is a relative term and may have many different applications.

Far less is conceded to advancing years than was true a few score years ago. The time was when men by their facial adornment and manner of attire proclaimed age far more definitely than at present. Silvered beard gave a venerable air to one who would now regard one's self as hardly out of late youth. Did men wear beards now tney would have a like effect, but cleanly shaven faces may belie the years.

As for women, not so long ago they put on caps at an early age and by the act advertised that their chief service in life had been given and they were inviting old age to hurry along. Now grandmothers bob their hair and often act as girlishly as their granddaughters. The years may be combatted in a measure by not yielding to them in a manner to accent their effect. Once it was the practice to advertise one's age. Now age is to a considerable extent disregarded. When one begins to give much thought to it, it will the more make its effect felt. However, the person of 65 ordinarily will not care for what were the pleasures of 25. Age is manifest in our changing desires to a greater extent than in personal appearance.

What has become of the old fashioned boy who used to receive a whipping in the wood shed?

"KITCHENETTE" BEEF

Styles change in demands for beef as well as for other things. Most present-day consumers want beef in a small and attractive package—that is, beef from blocky, smooth, young animals yielding a high percentage of quality meat—and the wise stockman keeps up with the changing needs of the trade. Whereas large steaks and roasts were formerly the chief cuts in demand, to-day most consumers want lightweight cuts that fit into present modes of living, such as apartment kitchenettes, small families, and greater variety of diet.

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture farmers are making rapid strides in meeting the new situation and recently the system of full-feeding grain to beef calves during the suckling period has come into use. All of this tends to shorten the lives of beef animals materially, but it provides the consumer with tenderer beef and may increase the profits of cattle raisers.

The girl who brought home a fur coat with a fancy name only to find the pelts were formerly the proud possession of a number of polecats think furriers may be inclined to deceit at times.

WE SLEEP A THIRD OF OUR LIVES AWAY

The average man, living seventy years sleeps approximately twenty-five years.

Science has made little progress in solving the mystery that surrounds sleep. Nearly every person requires about eight hours of sleep after a day of work. Scientists know this, but they know little more.

The greatest difficulty in experimental work upon sleep is in the loss of sleep it demands both from those experimented upon and those experimenting. It is not difficult to stay up for one night and day, but when experimenters demand that you stay awake for a month, you lose all enthusiasm as a working investigator.

One or two noted scientists of this generation have been so bold as to predict that the time will come when a way will be found to cut down the number of hours of sleep the human body now requires.

This is a day of seeming miracles piled upon miracles, but our guess would be that we will conquer the spaces of the universe and be able to talk to the stars before we conquer sleep.

Good Roads and Small Town Business

One need not be at all pessimistically inclined, nor need he possess half an eye to appreciate that the lot of the small town in general has been anything but an easy one for some years past. For some time many small towns have been standing still, some have retrogated, and only a few have managed to go forward in a degree.

The small town business man is prone to lay the blame on the threshold of the good road. It, he feels, is taking his customer away to the beguilments of the big city where he stocks up the family larder and, on the return home, thumbs his nose at the home merchant.

The only time, it often seems to the merchant, that his old customer patronizes him is when an emergency arises and the time lacks for a hurried trip to the city. The small-town business man feels this is an injustice, that the good road is playing him a shabby trick, for was he not among the very first to agitate good roads? He never missed an opportunity to fight, and meet, and resolute in behalf of good roads, and now see what happened!

And yet, it is not quite as bad as all that; the blame does not all lie in the good road. A lot of it is chargeable to the small-town business man himself. He has it within his power to remedy the situation to a great extent if he will only exert himself; if he will adjust himself to changed and changing business conditions; if he will lay aside bofore successful small-town business strategy and adapt himself with his business competitor—the large city business man.

A decade ago every small-town business man found his most stimulating competitor across the street in his own town; today he finds him in the city, 50 and more miles away. Where he had to watch but a single competitor before, the small-town business man has to peer in all directions today, for his keenest competitor comes from all corners of the compass—wherever good roads lure.

Yet, the cheering factor in the situation is that these same good roads that are leading the small-town's customers away can be made to return the errant ones and maybe, increase their number even. But it will take exertion, not flagrant spectacular, brass band exertion, but rather determined and aggressive.

It must develop in the form of closer co-operation. The small-town business man, it seems will have to learn to co-operate with his immediate competitor across the street. Instead of dissipating energy and resources in pyrotic victories that now and then succeed in stealing a dollar or two in business from their local competitors, they must learn to make common cause against out-of-town competition.

No, they must not be abusive, nor need they ridicule the customer who patronizes the city merchant.

Rather they must see to it that their various stocks are adequate to meet the needs of the community; they must learn to be above petty competition among themselves.

One patent fault with too many business men is that they are too often inclined to dabble in each other's business. The city business men are not free of their fault either, but they have the saving advantage of larger volume to aid them.

In the case of the small-town merchant, the fellow whose business has been encroached on almost always retaliates, and the result it that most small-town stocks contain a little of almost everything under the sun; capital is spread out over a great area, much of which of necessity, must be unproductive; and the things that should be stocked in adequate quantities must be skimped with the result that there is no appeal or inducement for the customer to seek to fill his wants at home. All too often it is impossible for him to do so, much as he may wish to.

Let the small-town business men learn to co-operate; to develop new business; to adapt aggressive business methods; advertise, not only judiciously, but unanimously; make their town local points for the community; make their community, in short, department stores with the departments under several instead of under one roof as in the large city; and much of the small town's prestige would return. It would have little need to fear good roads.

Not all small towns, admittedly could be benefitted thus for economic necessity is still a factor; but nevertheless most small towns mouldering in a state of dry rot to-day have it within their power to revivify themselves if only their business men want to, and used the right methods.

ROAD MANNERS

You are, say, a typical American. You have a car of some kind and call yourself a good driver. You are as good as anybody and not disposed to take anybody's impudence. A free man in a free country!

Now observe freedom as it functions on the highway.

The car ahead is going about as fast as you wish to go, but you don't enjoy being behind. You speed up to pass it and then slow down again.

Again you are going as fast as you wish to go and a car behind toots for a gangway. You speed up—not for any particular reason, but just to thwart the other fellow.

You are on the main highway and a car darts from a side road. A collision is narrowly averted. "Fool," you mutter.

You are on a side road and dart into the main highway, narrowly missing a speeding car. "Fool," you mutter.

No policeman being in sight, you make a left turn where left turns are forbidden. You feel adventurous. Five minutes later another adventurer attempts the same thing and grazes your innocent fender. "Why, the infernal idiot!" you cry.

You attempt to pass a car even though another is coming full speed. You think you can make it. You do. The car you are passing slows down the one coming head-on slides on locked wheels. Those two cautious drivers save a fool from his folly. Your heart skips four beats, but you glow with pride in your achievement.

You resent the fact of traffic officers; you honk impatiently in a traffic jam; you keep a little more than half of the road and curse the car that grazes you; you break the speed limit if there isn't a speed cop in sight; you growl about women drivers; you drive with loose brakes; parking regulations irritate you; a summons seems an invasion of your rights as a free citizen.

Freedom is a wonderful thing. It makes men self-reliant and self-respecting and—er—ill mannered.

Although spring and fall are the favorite seasons for outside painting, it may be done in either summer or winter if necessary. Outside painting can be done whenever the surfaces are dry and the weather not damp, frosty or freezing, and the temperature preferably between 60 and 80 degees Fahrenheit. New wooden buildings need a priming coat of paint as soon as the weather permits, finishing coats being added within the next month or two. Tinned roofing should be painted as soon as laid, while galvanized sheet iron may be allowed to weather for a year, usually with no injurious effects, to give paint a better foot hold.

Not all small towns, admittedly could be benefitted thus for economic necessity is still a factor: but nevertheless most small towns mouldering in a state of decay not to-day have it within their power to revivify themselves if only their business men want to, and used the right methods.

ROAD MANNERS

You are, say, a typical American. You have a car of some kind and call yourself a good driver. You are as good as anybody and not disposed to take anybody's impudence. A free man in a free country! Now observe freedom as it functions on the highway.

The car ahead is going about as fast as you wish to go, but you don't enjoy being behind. You speed up to pass it and then slow down again.

Again you are going as fast as you wish to go and a car behind toots for passage. You speed up—not for any particular reason, but just to thwart the other fellow.

You are on the main highway and a car darts from a side road. A collision is narrowly averted. "Fool," you mutter.

You are on a side road and dart into the main highway, narrowly missing a speeding car. "Fool," you mutter.

No policeman being in sight, you make a left turn where left turns are forbidden. You feel adventurous. Five minutes later another adventurer attempts the same thing and grazes your innocent fender. "Why, the infernal idiot!" you say.

You attempt to pass a car even though another is coming full speed. You think you can make it. You do. The car you are passing slows down the one coming head-on slides on locked wheels. Thus two cautious drivers save a fool from his folly. Your heart skips four beats, but you glow with pride in your achievement.

You resent the fact of traffic officers; you honk impatiently in a traffic jam; you keep a little more than half of the road and curse the car that grazes you; you break the speed limit if there isn't a speed cop in sight; you growl about women drivers; you drive with loose brakes; parking regulations irritate you; a summons seems an invasion of your rights as a free citizen.

Freedom is a wonderful thing. It makes men self-reliant and self-respecting and—er—ill mannered.

Although spring and fall are the favorite seasons for outside painting, it may be done in either summer or winter if necessary. Outside painting can be done whenever the surfaces are dry and the weather not damp, frosty or freezing, and the temperature preferably between 60 and 80 degees Fahrenheit. New wooden buildings need a priming coat of paint as soon as the weather permits, finishing coats being added within the next month or two. Tinned roofing should be painted as soon as laid, while galvanized sheet iron may be allowed to weather for a year, usually with no injurious effects, to give paint a better foot hold.

Hamlins at Augusta—Mrs. Riggs Closed House—Floyds Returned Home—Kimballs Have Charge of Hall—Accident On Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Hamlin left home on Monday morning to spend the week in Augusta, attending State Grange. They went in company with Mr. and Mrs. L. E. McIntire of East Waterford.

Mrs. Ida B. Riggs closed her house for the winter. She has gone to North Bridgton to spend a while with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnard. Mr. Barnard is in poor health. W. W. Abbott kindly motored Mrs. Riggs to the Barnard's.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Floyd returned to the village on Sunday, Dec. 2nd, after several weeks visit with their daughter, Mrs. Beechin, in Longmeadow, Mass. Mrs. Floyd is much improved in health for she was quite ill while away.

Wednesday night the usual fine supper was served by Mrs. Eugenia Collins and Mrs. Marion Hamlin to a large gathering. The picture, "The Country Doctor" was a picture showing the real old-fashioned doctor, who shared the joys and sorrows of his community as well as to minister to the sick. Our doctor can fully appreciate the sleigh ride in the blizzard, for sometimes it falls his lot to brave bad storms in answer to urgent calls. Hope our community appreciates his faithfulness.

Harry Haynes and his men have been laying pipe from the brook to the Saunders barn so he can pump water for his stock. He will be able to house several head of cattle in this barn and by this method he can easily water them.

Henry S. Haynes, who has so faithfully cared for the Grange Hall for two years, turned the keys over to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kimball, who began their first duties on Friday night when a dance was given. Everyone regrets having Henry give up the work, but are glad to welcome the workers chosen.

Bear Mt. Grange is to hold its regular meeting on Saturday, Dec. 15th. All attending members are to bring a ten cent gift for the Christmas tree, to be held after the meeting, following the tree will be a box social. All ladies will bring a box well filled. The date is next Saturday evening.

Mr. Townsend conducted the services on Sunday morning. His theme was "God's Faithfulness." Wilson Morse, the Sunday school superintendent, was ill with the "flu" and Mrs. Florence B. Rounds acting in his place. Teachers remained after closing of school to make plans for the Christmas program and tree to be held in Grange Hall.

A big truck left the road near Silas White's on Friday, hitting the cement culvert and smashing it to pieces. It is indeed slippery driving in some places.

Mrs. L. R. Muller is home after several weeks visit with her relatives in Mechanic Falls and Auburn.

Horace Allen and Luville Heald have been chopping wood for Irving Bell on Blackguard this past week.

Little Eric Hamlin was a brave little chap when he went to Dr. Hubbard and had four teeth extracted on Sunday afternoon. Your correspondent enjoyed hearing him tell his reasons for so doing. He was sure braver than some of us older folks would be.

Elmer Staples, who has spen two weeks with his daughter, Mrs. Ben Collins, returned home to Skowhegan on Saturday.

The Thanksgiving guests of their aunt, Mrs. Fannie Green, were Laurence MacKeen and his sister, Margaret, of Milton, instead of his brother, Claude, and friend Miss Chittick. It was my mistake.

As the Christmas season is here, may we all realize the real meaning of the season and not be content in making just own families and dear friends happy, but reach out to those who are not so fortunate as we, and make this Christmas the happiest they have ever had. Let us all see that we follow Christ's example as best we humans can during this season, the celebration of his birth, in service and love.

One day this past week while sliding on the schoolhouse hill, a car ran into a sled carrying Mary Marr and Marguerite and Agnes Brown. No serious injuries were sustained by any of the children. Mary's side was hurt a bit and the iron runner of the sled bent badly. The driver of the car was a stranger. It was icy and the brakes of the car could not stop quickly on the slippery road. He went to the schoolhouse and explained the accident to the teachers. Now the smaller children are not allowed to coast across the main road. It was surely a narrow escape.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Bradbury were Sunday guests of her brother, Ernest Abbott, in South Paris.

Stranded on Sampson Hill—Mrs. Marston Returned from Portland—"Heart of Maine" Presented.

Fred Littlefield and Herbert Pratt of Albany got stranded Sunday night (or rather the small hours of Monday morning) on Sampson Hill on their way from Norway. The former had lost a new auto chain from his wheel and the latter had no chains to lose, so they both got into one car and slept until daylight, then got their cars pulled out of the road by a passing vehicle and started out on foot for help and something to eat. Mr. Littlefield had just purchased his chains, having them made at Bethel.

Rilla Marston returned home Sunday night, she has been to Portland three weeks as her daughter, Mrs. Pearla Hatch, was in the hospital very sick. Mrs. Hatch came to her home in Fryeburg, Saturday, but is still very ill.

Willis Littlefield and Myron Lord started out Monday morning in good earnest with the new snow plough.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Hazelton were at Norway, Saturday morning.

The Rebekahs had a sale and supper, Friday evening, following which the "Crooked River Outing Club" presented a drama "Heart of Maine" consisting of the following cast of characters:

Sally Ann ..... Marion Rowe
Tom Gurney, Sam's son ..... Herbert Bean
Lucerne Lasalle ..... Hazel Lord
Jessica Jay Perkins, Hiram's daughter ..... Irene Callahan
Mehitable Blair Ransome, Jonathan's daughter ..... Mary Holt
Jonathon Blair ..... W. I. Bull
Sam Guernsey ..... Earl Libby
Yelzora Guerney, his wife ..... Ruth Wentworth
Luella Simpson, her sister ..... Ruth Holt
Marie Blair, Jonathan's daughter-in-law ..... Anna Bull
Joe Blair, Jonathan's grandson ..... Myron Lord
Hiram Perkins ..... Chester Holt
Martin Cross ..... Myron Lord

Every part was taken in a first class manner. Music by the "Jolly Four" of Lovell, furnished music between acts and for the dance that followed.

There was no school, Monday, as the school truck didn't get through, only part way, for the Bisbeetown scholars.

Ernest McGray and son, Lloyd, are back at the farm staying.

Mrs. Fred Hersey, who has been sick, is better and she and daughters, Sarah and Bertha, and Billy Button, were at Norway, Saturday.

Mrs. Lizzie Adams is stopping with her daughter, Mrs. Wallace Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. James Morse of Worcester, Mass., have been recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morse.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fillebrown have been confined to the house the past week with grippe.

Miss Mabel Gage was hostess to a party of twenty-five on Thursday evening from six to nine. Charades and games were enjoyed, after which a delicious lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Lauris Millett are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Veda May.

Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Hubbard, Mrs. L. R. Rounds and Mrs. Frank Morgan spent Tuesday in Portland.

The Farm Bureau had an instructive meeting on Christmas Suggestions, Friday, at the Morse cottage. Fourteen members were present.

Miss Mary Rounds has returned to her school in Milton, Mass., after spending the Thanksgiving holidays at her home here.

The Reading Club held their first meeting of the season this week, at Miss Gage's.

We were grieved to learn that our village 63 champion has again been defeated.

L. Millett and Denis Gardiner have been working on a new hen house for the Fillebrowns. They plan on going into the hen business quite extensively.

The 4H Club for boys and girls met at Camp Restawhile on Saturday to plan next year's work. Mrs. Charlotte Fillebrown and Mrs. June Pike are the leaders of Keoka Club.

Dr. and Mrs. Hubbard, and Mr. Lockwood, were supper guests, Monday night, of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan.

W. A. Hersey of Bolster's Mills is spending a few days with his nephew, Charles A. Hersey.

Mrs. Florence Johnson from Somerville, Mass. came Wednesday, November 26, and spent Thanksgiving at Berry Mills' with her Mother, Mrs. Harriet E. Rice. She returned, Sunday.

Those who took dinner on Thanksgiving day with Mrs. Harriet E. Rice at her daughters, Mrs. George Kneeland's in Berry Mills, were: Mr. and Mrs. George Kneeland, Mr. and Mrs. Burnham Rice and sons, Walter and Rufus Rice, Lewis Decker and Mrs. Florence Johanson, of Somerville, Mass.

Charles Rice went, Saturday, to Portland with Rev. W. I. Bull to attend the Boys' Conference.

Alfred Hersey, and Howard Millett were on the B. A. Junior Basket Ball team that played at Hiram, Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Saunders from Bridgton were in the neighborhood, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Saunders called on Mrs. C. A. Hersey.

Charles Hersey threshed beans over at Charles Hamlins,' on Wednesday.

OXFORD

Rev. Carritt Called to Rumford

Rev. Ernest H. Carritt, pastor of the Federated Church at Oxford for the past two years, a former pastor of the First Universalist Church of Lewiston, has been extended a call to the pastorate of the Church of Our Father at Rumford, beginning January 1, 1929.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Carritt are well known in Androscoggin and Oxford counties. Mrs. Carritt is a talented musician and has a fine soprano voice.

Mr. Carritt, a graduate of Tufts College, is a native of England, but has been in this country 27 years. Following his pastorate in Lewiston he was called to Oxford. They have one son, 13, a freshman in the high school.

A special meeting of the Universalist parish at Rumford was held on Friday evening at which time it was unanimously voted to extend a call to Mr. Carritt to succeed Rev. Robert M. Rice, who after two years and eight months as pastor of the Church of Our Father, leaves the first of the year to take a pastorate in Beverly, Mass.

STATE OF MAINE

Oxford, ss.

To the Honorable Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court to be held at Paris, within and for said County of Oxford, on the second Tuesday of February, A. D. 1929.

Respectfully Represents, Agnes Whittemore Blair, resident at Dixfield in the County of Oxford and State of Maine that she was lawfully married to Wesley O. Blair whose present residence is unknown at Roxbury in the County of Suffolk and State of Massachusetts on the eighteenth day of December A. D. 1923, by C. I. Wilson, duly authorized to solemnize marriages therein;

That the Libellant and Libellee cohabited in this State after their said marriage;

That the Libellant resided in this State when the cause of divorce accrued as hereinafter set forth;

That the Libellant has resided in this State in good faith for one year prior to the commencement of these proceedings;

That the Libellee is a resident of this State;

That the Libellant has ever been faithful to her marriage obligations, but that the said Libellee has been unmindful of the same;

That there is no collusion between your Libellant and the said Libellee to obtain a divorce;

That on or about the first day of March A. D. 1924, said Libellee utterly deserted your Libellant without reasonable cause and has continued said desertion for three consecutive years next prior to the filing of this libel;

That being of sufficient ability and being able to labor and provide for her, said Libellee grossly, wantonly and cruelly refuses or neglects to provide suitable maintenance for your Libellant;

That said Libellee has been guilty of extreme cruelty toward your said Libellant;

That the said Libellee has been guilty of cruel and abusive treatment toward your said Libellant.

That no children have been born to them during their said marriage.

Wherefore, your Libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony between herself and the said Libellee may be decreed;

And your Libellant further alleges that the residence of said Libellee is unknown to your Libellant and cannot be ascertained by reasonable diligence.

Dated at Rumford this fourteenth day of November, A. D. 1928.

AGNES WHITTEMORE BLAIR, Libellant.

STATE OF MAINE

Oxford, ss.

Rumford, Maine, November 14 A. D. 1928.

Personally appeared Agnes Whittemore Blair above named Libellant and made oath that the foregoing allegation as to the residence of the Libellee is true.

What Kind of Investment Should I Make?

The person with surplus funds to invest has a wide range of possibilities before him. That's why this question is usually so puzzling to those inexperienced in investment matters.

The experienced buyer insists that his investments meet a three-fold requirement: first, safety of principal; second, a reasonably good income return; third, freedom from care and worry.

This bank can supply you with a variety of bond issues which meet all of these requirements. These securities have been investigated and underwritten by bond houses of high repute. We will be glad to help you make good investments whenever you have surplus funds beyond those needed for reserves and emergencies.

We invite you to make this bank your financial headquarters

New England's Markets

"The Retailer and Consumer in New England"

Steadily improving national standards of living and the increasing purchasing power of the American people as a whole, point to expanding markets for the high-grade specialized products of New England's remarkably diversified industries, according to Dr. Julius Klein, Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Commerce Department.

Stressing the importance of the wide spread of New England's manufacturing industries in contributing to business stability, Dr. Klein pointed to the official figures of the Census which show that nearly two-thirds of all the classes of industry listed for the entire country are represented in New England.

Primarily because of this same great sweep of manufactures the cotton consuming industries do not occupy the position of paramount importance in New England generally believed. Government figures show that all the cotton consuming industries combined contribute only about ten per cent of the total income from manufacturing in the whole area.

Again, the prosperity of New England has been regarded by many to hang upon the boot and shoe industry; yet all the leather industries, together with all the rubber manufactures of the region, comprise less than 12 per cent of the contribution made by all of New England's factories and mills.

The metal manufactures of New England mean more to the people of that section as a source of income than all the textiles, metal-working industries contributing nearly one-third of the total income for all manufacturing in New England against 27 per cent for textiles, including wool, silk and knit goods, and all wearing apparel.

For many months, at the request and with the co-operation of the New England Council, the Commerce Department has been gathering fundamental facts and figures concerning New England's business. This great mass of information has been carefully compiled and classified for publication. Believing that a series of small pamphlets would be more practicable at this time than several formidably sized volumes, and in order to expediate delivery, the Department has decided to make public some of the information in pamphlet form, each one dealing with a well defined subject.

The first of the series released bears the title, "The Retailer and the Consumer in New England." Its contents are based generally upon personal interviews with merchants and other business men in all parts of New England, and supplemented with information gathered by questionaires and from other sources.

In general the pamphlet shows that the revolutionary changes in distribution methods have affected retail distribution in New England as in other parts of the country. Department stores have had distinctive development in New England because of the large number of population centers of considerable size. Despite the tremendous pulling force of the automobile and other factors in drawing local trade of small communities to larger nearby centers, it is found the majority of family trading in New England is still carried on with merchants of the local community.

Chain store development has been pronounced, particularly in southern New England. The success of chain organization is attributed to skilled central management, attractive arrangement of stores in well chosen locations and rapidly moving stocks of standardized goods. The success of the chain stores has stimulated many independent retailers to adopt improved methods in their business and to reduce operating costs by eliminating sources of waste. Better control of merchandising operations is indicated on the part of many of the successful stores, which have come to realize that increased volume of sales does not necessarily mean increased profits.

There are some distinctive preferences of the different racial groups, such as the Canadian-French, the Polish and Italian stock but the people of foreign birth are found to become assimilated rapidly and to adopt the customs and taste of the native stock with surprising rapidity. As a general rule their purchases are influenced by the size of their income than by racial peculiarities.

The report discusses in detail the prevailing practices of department stores and specialty shops as representative of the family trading which is done in most instances by the women of the household. Men's clothing and furnishing stores are given detailed treatment as typical of general trading with men customers. Another important type of retailing is considered in the sales of furniture and home furnishings which take place through a variety of outlets.

A particularly significant part of the bulletin is the analysis of customers' preferences and buying habits, based upon replies from nearly 4,000 housewives in the smaller cities and towns of New England. This fairly representative cross-section of New England consumers indicated that the majority of housewives still buy their ordinary articles of apparel and household equipment through their local retail stores.

Out-of-town trips for purchases of dresses, coats, furs, furniture, rugs and the like were indicated by from one-third to one-fourth of the housewives who replied, the frequency of these trips to larger centers being determined largely by their distance from such centers. The principal reasons given for trading out of town were the greater variety and more up-to-date styles found in the larger stores, these factors appearing more important than differences in price. Theaters and other attractions also were important factors in many instances.

The majority of these housewives indicated that the service of local stores was satisfactory, only nine per cent of the total number who replied indicating that they were not entirely satisfied with the service they obtained from stores in their own community. The chief limitation appeared to be the smaller selection and style range in the smaller centers and some criticism was made of the poor arrangement and display offered in the smaller stores. It was indicated, however, that many of the retail stores in the smaller centers offered conditions fully as satisfactory as those in the larger stores.

Discussing some of the more general aspects of New England, Dr. Klein states, that while certain lines of industry some New England manufacturers have fallen back, their losses are in general being largely offset by the progress of many other establishments even in the same industries which have adapted their operations to the changed conditions that have prevailed since the war.

The condition of New England manufacturers in the last few years has been one of transition and adjustment. The whole region has been going through a thorough house-cleaning. In this respect it has an advantage in comparison with other regions which have not yet faced those conditions but which will be confronted sooner or later with similar problems.

New England is the first region of the United States which has approached its problem of adjustment by making a thorough inventory of its resources and its weaknesses and it has thereby set an example which will doubtless be followed by other regions.

The study of the "Retailer and Consumer in New England" which is now ready for distribution will be followed within a short time by similar preliminary bulletins on "New England Manufactures in the Nation's Commerce" and "Food Trade of New England in Relation to Commerce and Industry." Another pamphlet, "The External Trade of New England," will also be available shortly. At a later date the complete survey will be issued in three volumes under the titles of "The Industrial Structure of New England," "The Commercial Structure of New England" and "The New England Market Data Handbook." The last-named which constitutes a reliable source book of market information is expected to be the first of these volumes to become available. The three publications together, it is pointed out, will present for the first time a composite picture of New England's industry and trade.

Overheated House, Health Menace

Prominent Health Authority Says Automatic Heating Promises to Cut Doctors' Bills

A large share of winter-time ills are due to high temperatures in the home, according to Dr. W. W. Peter, Associate Secretary of the American Public Health Association. And millions of dollars could be cut from the nation's doctor bills if house temperatures were taken out of the hands of chance and controlled automatically.

"Careful experiments with the influence of room temperatures on health and comfort," says Dr. Peter, "prove that the ill effects of a poorly-ventilated room are primarily due to excessive temperatures and the consequent interference with the processes of body temperature regulation. Habitual exposure to such conditions leads to lowered tone of the whole heat-regulating, circulatory mechanism and inability to respond to the demands which may be put on it. The result is a profound and important influence upon the susceptibility to respiratory infections.

"The New York State Commission on Ventilation has declared: 'The avoidance of overheating is the primary essential in all systems of ventilation. Air change, direction, or flow and all other factors, are secondary.'"

In the growing use in this country of oil fuel for home furnaces, Dr. Peter sees hope for a general and marked improvement in public health.

"The fact that liquid fuel is naturally adapted to automatic control is one of the most significant things about it," he states.

"The job of maintaining a uniform and a proper temperature is turned over to a mechanical instrument—the thermostat. The heating plant is controlled, in other words, by the heat of the house. There can be no question that if every one of the 20,000,000 homes in the United States were equipped with automatically controlled heating plants and if every housewife recognized the importance of a proper house temperature, millions of dollars would be cut from the nation's doctor's bills."

HIGH SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Despite the remarkable increases in attendance at high schools throughout the country during the last decade, the rate of increase is still climbing until now the total attendance represents just about half of those in the nation of high school age. The American Journal of Psychology, following an extensive survey, estimates that the total of students attending high school at the beginning of the present year was approximately four million as compared to only 110,000 in 1880, the first year for which accurate high school statistics were available. By 1900 this number had increased to 519,000 and in 1910 it jumped to 915,000. Ten years later the attendance was 3,650,000.

The steady increase of high school enrollment is the outstanding feature of educational development. It is largely a post-war growth. The colleges are also facing heavy increases in enrollment, but the total figures are much less because colleges are comparatively few while every municipality and many country districts have high schools.

Losses Caused by Colds

Colds are so prevalent that they average a loss of ten days' activity to each individual yearly.

Grandmother Knew

there was nothing so good for congestion and colds as mustard. But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered.

Musterole gives the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister. Gently rub it in. See how quickly the pain disappears.

Try Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

Meeting of Wyonegonic Club—Thanksgiving Ball a Success—Guests in Town—Miss Burnham Home from Hospital.

The Wyonegonic Club met with Mrs. Nathaniel Whitney on Friday afternoon, Nov. 30. The following program was enjoyed:

Reading of Collect .....
Business .....
Roll Call, Reminiscences .....
Paper, Dr. Francis E. Clark .....
Written by Mrs. Anna Dudley; read by Mrs. Ada Whitney.
Home Work from the University of Maine ..... Members

Mrs. Lelia Bane spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Louise Foster, on Winslow St.

The Thanksgiving Ball given by the Harrison Fire Department on Thursday night was a great success, both financially and socially. A good sum was realized for the firemen. Harley True's Orchestra furnished music and there were guests present from Norway, Bridgton, South Bridgton. Mr. True plans to conduct dances on Friday nights at the Grange Hall.

Lucille Kneeland, who is private secretary of Mr. Ricker at Poland Springs, spent a week recently at Elms Inn, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman V. Kneeland.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fagan and son, William, of Portland, spent Thanksgiving with her mother, Mrs. Abbie Purington, on Front Street. Master William spent the remainder of the week here.

Miss Martha Caswell, a teacher in Malden, Mass., and a friend, Miss Beatrice Prince, also a teacher in Malden, spent Thanksgiving and the week end with Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Caswell on Elm Street. Miss Prince and Miss Caswell both taught formerly in Brunswick.

Mr. and Mrs. John Keen entertained Thanksgiving, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Keen.

Mona G. Green of the New England Conservatory of Music, and Miss Ethel Whitney of Melrose Highlands, spent Thanksgiving at their homes here.

Hazel Burnham has returned from Boston, where she underwent surgery at the New England Baptist Hospital.

Mrs. C. D. Tarbox is ill at her home on Main Street. Her mother, Mrs. Jennie Haynes, of South Waterford, is with her at present.

PREVENT HOLIDAY FIRES

How terrible it is to read newspaper accounts of fires at Christmas time. This is the happiest season of the year, especially for children, but fires often bring suffering and death, creating a roaring furnace of flames where but a short time before had been a joyous home.

Yet simple precautions will prevent holiday fires: When using a candle in your window, be sure it is an electric one, properly wired, as they are generally safe.

If you have a Christmas tree, set it up securely so it cannot topple over. Don't place it near heating or lighting fixtures. For trimming the tree use only noncombustible materials such as metal tinsel, flake asbestos and powdered mica for snow effects. For illuminating the tree, lighted candles should never be used. Properly installed electric lights are safer and give a colorful effect, but safest of all is a colored spotlight focussed on the tree.

Again it is necessary to caution smokers to be careful with their matches and smoking materials near trees and decorations. Of course, keep matches out of the reach of small children.

STATE OF MAINE

Oxford, ss.

To the Honorable Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court to be held at Paris, within and for said County of Oxford on the second Tuesday of February, A. D. 1928.

Respectfully Represents, Nellie May Cash, resident at Lovell in the County of Oxford and State of Maine, that she was lawfully married to Raymond Cash, formerly of Woodstock in the County of Oxford and State of Maine and now of parts unknown, at Norway, in the County of Oxford and State of Maine on the 23rd day of April, A. D. 1927, by George F. Hathaway, authorized to solemnize marriages therein;

That the Libellant and Libellee cohabitated in this State after their said marriage;

That the Libellant resided in this State when the cause of divorce accrued as hereinafter set forth;

That the Libellant has resided in this State in good faith for one year prior to the commencement of these proceedings;

That the Libellant has ever been faithful to her marriage obligations, but that the said Libellee has been unmindful of the same;

That there is no collusion between your Libellant and the said Libelee to obtain a divorce;

That being of sufficient ability and being able to labor and provide for her, said Libellee grossly, wantonly and cruelly refuses or neglects to provide suitable maintenance for your Libellant;

That the said Libellee has been guilty of cruel and abusive treatment toward your said Libellant: so that her health has been impaired and her happiness wholly destroyed;

That one child has been born to them during their said marriage, now living, viz.: Bernice Cash, aged one year.

Wherefore, your Libellant prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony between herself and the said Libellee may be decreed; and that the care and custody of their minor child, Bernice Cash, may be given to said Libellant;

Also that reasonable alimony may be decreed to your Libellant out of the estate of the said Libellee, or, in lieu thereof, that a specific sum may be paid to her by him;

And your Libellant further alleges that the residence of said Libellee is unknown to your Libellant and cannot be ascertained by reasonable diligence.

Dated at Norway, Me., this third day of November, A. D. 1928.

(Signed) NELLIE MAY CASH, Libellant.

STATE OF MAINE

Oxford, ss. Norway, Me., Nov. 3rd, A. D. 1928.

Personally appeared Nellie May Cash, above named Libellant, and made oath that the foregoing allegation as to the residence of the Libellee is true.

Before me,

Public Men I Have Known

Justice Albert M. Spear, Judge Addison E. Herrick and John P. Swasey Appear This Week

Article No. 5, By C. F. Whitman

Justice Albert M. Spear of Augusta was one of the judges of the Supreme Judicial Court during the last thirteen years that I served as Clerk of that Court in this county, and was one of those I had the highest regard for. He was born in Madison, Maine, in March, 1852. In 1902, after a most successful practice as a jury lawyer, he was appointed a member of the highest judicial court in this state. He, with Justice John F. Morrill, whom I admire, on account of being over 79 years old, have been retired on half pay, serving when necessity calls for them to do so. This is an unwise law, which tends to deprive the state of the services of the ablest and best judges, and to fill the bench of our highest judicial tribunal with less learned and proficient men. It may be said in passing over this subject that age itself is not a sure criterion of mental weakness. These two eminent jurists, though over 70, were never better equipped for efficient service on the bench than today. Justice Oliver W. Holmes, Jr., though past 90, I believe is still regarded as one of the ablest members of the Supreme Court of the United States. And in further support of my statement, many instances might be cited of eminent judges who had ably served many years beyond the age of seventy.

In looking over an old Maine Register of 1893-4—the latter being the year I was first elected clerk—I found a number of things worth noting here. Judge Spear, then of Gardiner, was President of the Maine Senate and Judge Savage of Auburn, afterwards Chief Justice, was Speaker of the House. Hon. Henry Cleaves of Portland was Governor of the State. Gen. George L. Beal of Norway was State Treasurer. Waldo Pettengill of Rumford was a member of the Governor's Council. Judge Addison E. Herrick of Bethel was one of the State Senators from this county. John M. Philbrook of Bethel, afterwards County Commissioner, was a member of the House, as was also J. Hastings Bean of Mason, who was elected Register of Deeds in 1894. Eugene F. Smith of Norway was County Attorney and Captain of the Norway Military Company.

Isaac W. Hanson was Clerk of the Courts in Androscoggin. Benj. C. Stone in Cumberland, James E. Hewey in York, and Col. Albert S. Austin in Oxford County. These were very popular officials.

John A. Peters of Bangor was Chief Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court and Charles W. Walton and Enoch Foster were two of the seven associate judges.

I do not recall a single humorous incident connected with Judge Spear's terms of the court in this county. He was attentive to the business brought before him and wanted to see it conducted with dispatch to save the people needless expense, and he expected the lawyers to be ready to present their cases for trial when they were assigned for that purpose. At one time he said to me, "It costs heavily to run courts and good lawyers should always be ready to try their cases and not keep the court waiting." And they had to toe the mark in this respect. The following is in point:

At one May term of the court at Rumford there was not a great amount of business to be transacted and some of the lawyers determined to run the court over into the second week. This scheme came to my notice from a source I knew to be reliable and I made up my mind to inform the Judge about it. He was on the train on which I went to Rumford the day previous to the opening of the court and I found an opportunity to tell him what I had heard. He made no reply, but I noticed an unusual sparkle of his eyes and I felt sure that he meant to upset that little scheme and was curious to see how he would do it.

When the docket was called the next day, the cases marked for trial were half of them assigned for the second day of the court and the other half for the following day. As the cases came on for trial, two of them of small import were soon disposed of. The third one in order was apparently of considerable importance and John P. Swasey was counsel for the Plaintiff.

"Mr. Swasey," said the Judge, "We will now take up your case."

"But, your Honor, I am not prepared to go on with the trial," replied Mr. Swasey. "I thought the cases ahead of mine would take up the attention of the court for the whole day and I told my client that he might go home on the down train."

"Call the Plaintiff," promptly ordered the Judge, and he was nonsuited. Mr. Swasey took his medicine without a word of protest, but had he asked for a continuance "on terms"—by paying costs for the May term—it would have been granted. It was plain to everyone after that that the Judge was not to be trifled with and the business of the court went on smoothly and rapidly and on Saturday forenoon it adjourned to reassemble "on a new summons" at South Paris in October.

At another term of the court there was Justice Spear presided, one of the lawyers was counsel for a rum-seller who he hoped to get off with a small fine. The County Attorney didn't seriously oppose it. The fellow pleaded guilty and the indictment being passed up to the Judge he wrote upon it his sentence. It was a substantial fine and thirty days in jail. As the lawyers went out into the library the Judge said to me, "They can't run up that way in my court."

I once had occasion to express through the press my tribute to this able, upright Judge and good man, which I repeat here: By his legal learning and faithfulness, in the performance of the duties of his great office, he has attained eminence on the bench. As I write these lines, the memory of my service under him comes back to me and deeply touches me. His consideration and kindness; his great ability; his learned, clear and impartial jury charges; his unwearied care, that all should have a fair hearing; that the innocent should go free and the guilty be punished, have left their indelible impression on my mind and stamps him in my view as a model judge knowing no fear, and courting no favor, and animated solely with the purpose of performing what he feels and believes to be right and his duty.

HARTFORD

Those who spent Thanksgiving away were as follows: Mrs. M. Howard Milton and Bessie Luce and daughter Velma, and Mrs. H. Haines of Hartford Center, with Mrs. Hattie Barrows of E. Sumner. Mr. and Mrs. Edmond L. Bryant and Richard Routhier with Mr. and Mrs. Bowden of Auburn. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Marston with Mr. and Mrs. R. Riley of Livermore Falls. A. G. Marston, Allen Marston and son, Earle, with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bryant of Livermore. Mrs. Ella Robinson with Mrs. Rosie Hewitt, East Hartford.

Mrs. Wm. Bisbee is getting along at the Community Hospital, Rumford, as well as can be expected. Friends send her a post card shower, recently.

Mrs. Muriel Foote went, recently, to the C. M. G. Hospital, Lewiston, to see her daughter, Mrs. Muriel Hartley, of Canton, who is ill there.

Warren Bryant, who has been at home lately, is now working pressing hay for R. E. McAllister of Canton Point.

Lou Bird spent Thanksgiving with her sister, Mrs. E. A. Record.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harriman of Norway visited at Neil Lovejoy's, Dec. 2.

Whitman School, Friday, Nov. 30, completed the first term of twelve weeks. Bernice Lovejoy and Richard Sturtevant were neither absent nor tardy for the term. Pupils receiving 100% in spelling for the whole term are as follows: Norman Lovejoy, Ellsworth Lawrence, Kenneth Lawrence, Bernice Lovejoy, Bella Comeau, Louise Duguay, Linda Lawrence, Lauren Sturtevant, Dorothy Lawrence.

WEST SUMNER

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Scudder and son Ivan, 15 Oak Street, Livermore Falls, and Mrs. Scudder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Glover, West Sumner, who are spending the winter there, were guests, Thanksgiving day, of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Green, North Livermore. Others in the party were Mrs. Stella G. Beck, Buckfield, and her sons, Eugene W., and Chas. A. Beck of Augusta. Also Miss Margaret Morrison and Miss Dorothy Simpson both of Augusta.

Saturday night, Dec 1, closed the season of dances at West Sumner Grange Hall.

William A. Barrows Relief Corps held their annual fair at West Sumner, Nov. 22. They held a dance in the evening.

Mrs. Percy Redding has purchased a Maytag washing machine.

Carl Abbott has been sick.

Wednesday, December 5, free vaccination of school children was given by the board of health. Dr. Heald and Dr. Atwood attended to the vaccination.

Thanksgiving was very quiet. Many did not accept Thanksgiving invitations on account of mumps, chicken pox, and the fear of small pox—one case of mumps, Kenneth Grant is sick with the disease.

Miss Annie Hadley has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Claude Cushman, Bryant Fond.

Miss Edith Bradford was the guest of Mrs. John Heald, Friday, Nov. 30.

Morris Ellingwood shot a large deer during the hunting season.

KEZAR FALLS

Kezar Falls was embued with the Thanksgiving spirit. Children were home from schools and other Temples of Erudition, beaming with happiness and anticipation. All other folks were as children, but of an older growth and as responsive to the general prevalence of good cheer. It was good to see the day so appreciated and no doubt, in many a home with bowed head and reverend mien the Father of all mercies was petitioned in short and succinct words which meant so much, "Be with us at our table, Lord, for Christ's sake, Amen."

The Kezar Falls Woolen Mill which has been nearly closed is running again on full time, to the great satisfaction of all concerned.

CHEVROLET

New Features of-

The Outstanding Chevrolet

of Chevrolet History

-a Six in the price range of the four!

Everywhere The Outstanding Chevrolet is being hailed as a spectacular achievement in advanced design, because it embodies the greatest array of improvements ever offered on any automobile of comparable price.

Here, for example, is a marvelous new six-cylinder, valve-in-head engine whose design represents over four years of development and testing on the part of Chevrolet and General Motors engineers. It has numerous advancements typified by a non-detonating, high-compression cylinder head—gasoline pump with filter, and automatic rocker arm lubrication. It provides performance the like of which was never before available in the low-price field—marvelous smoothness, tremendous reserve power and sensationally swift acceleration—all with an economy averaging better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline!

Here are new and improved four-wheel brakes unsurpassed for silence in operation, positive action and ease of adjustability!

Here are marvelous new Fisher bodies introducing a new order of beauty, smartness and luxury.

And here, also, are other features by the score—each an impressive example of automotive progress—each contributing to outstanding performance, quiet operation, long life, ease of control and economical ownership!

We cordially invite you to visit our showroom and secure complete and detailed information regarding this great new car, which will be ready for delivery beginning January 1st.

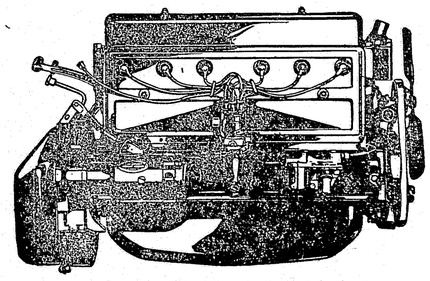

Advance Showings

The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History is being displayed in a series of advance showings, the last of which are in the cities listed below:

Chevrolet's new six-cylinder, fully enclosed valve-in-head engine has a high compression non-detonating head. Its piston displacement is 194 cu. in. and it develops 46 H. P. at low engine speed.

An automatic accelerating pump results in unusually swift acceleration, as well as greater gasoline economy.

On the indirectly lighted instrument panel are grouped all controls, including the water temperature indicator and theft-proof Electro-lock.

The new chromium plated radiator, lamp standards and rims, and one-piece full crown fenders are typical fine car features of the Outstanding Chevrolet.

The adjustable driver's seat in all closed models. This brings the clutch and brake pedals within proper reach for all drivers.

Newly designed 4-wheel brakes, safe—positive—quiet.

Marvelous new bodies by Fisher are an outstanding feature of the Outstanding Chevrolet.

About Greeting Cards

The sending of greeting cards is not new. From the cave man who chiselled his messages of friendship on stones, through mediaeval times when papyrus scrolls, olive branches, jewels, the ribbon-knot of chivalry, or sealed missives sent by fleet-footed messengers linked the royalty of the world together, until the present time when a few pennies will send them to any part of the world, the greeting has been a necessary form of expressing human friendliness.

In olden times the greeting was possible only for the few; today it is used by millions. Greeting cards, especially at Christmas time, are sent alike by kings and home-folks. The finest art work of the land is available for both, for while the royal families of Europe and the high officials of our own land command the services of famous artists and verse-writers to produce individual cards for their personal use, the same talent produces designs for the popular greeting card. In mediaeval times the royal greetings often took the form of jewels or carved trinkets. At the French court great gallants sent carvings or ivory plaques to their ladies; it was on one of these that the Marquise de la Vallière read the love verses from Louis XIV to her successor, and thus learned that her reign was over.

This Year's Modernistic Note in Greeting Cards

The late fall and early winter season contains four important greeting days: Hallowe'en with its spirit of frivolity; Thanksgiving when good fellowship is in the air; Christmas and New Year's with their good cheer and hearty well-wishing. The cards which will appear to mark these days are all showing the modernistic influence to some extent. Colors are brighter and clear, and a certain boldness has crept into favorite designs. There is not, however, as radical an outburst of cubes and triangles as is found in the modernistic furniture designs. The envelope linings, however, are noticeably riotous in both design and color.

The 1928 Christmas Cards

Someone has said that there are no "new styles" in Christmas cards, that the old, old message can never change its style, though the paper, printing, coloring and design for expressing it can very greatly.

Certainly 1928 offers a great variety of new and lovely cards. All are very colorful, many are bold and brave in hearty well-wishing. Gone are the delicate apple blossom sprays and holly twigs that used to be the sole decoration of a Christmas card. In their place we have big all over designs, pictures that tell a Christmas story with but a word or two of greeting, and unusually lovely etchings, smartly hand-colored and in many instances suitable for framing.

Christmas cards are of two kinds, personal and informal. The first are printed or engraved with the sender's name and the same card is usually sent to the entire list of friends and acquaintances. The informal cards are usually selected from card-shop counters to fit each individual on the sender's list; they may be religious, dignified, clever, amusing, or witty, as desired.

In the personal cards there are new styles in signatures. The use of the senders' first names instead of the formal "Mr. and Mrs." is sponsored this year. The facsimile or handwritten signature is also new for 1928. It has the virtue of being adaptable to almost any card and it adds a desirable personal touch, although of course it entails having a special plate made of the signature. If it is desired to use a calling card plate for engraved Christmas cards, the lettering of the calling card can usually be matched among the infinite variety of greeting cards available.

The informal cards are bigger and brighter than ever. The repetition of the card design inside the flap of the envelope sometimes takes the place of the gay envelope linings, and there are many new cut-out novelties. The modernistic touch shows in black backgrounds for bright spot-color designs. Silhouettes are popular.

Designs for both the personal and informal 1928 cards include old English scenes, New England scenes, New York scenes, and some scenes as late as 1900. Ships prance colorfully on bounding seas, and there are animals, hunting scenes, Bible scenes, classic madonnas, and many toy and Santa Claus designs especially for children.

For the New Year

Many people send New Year's cards, sometimes in preference to, sometimes in addition to, Christmas cards. They are particularly appropriate for business friends and for those who, for one reason or another, have not been remembered at Christmas. Many New Year's cards incorporate a word of thanks for a Christmas remembrance and the 1929 cards will be like the Christmas ones—very gay and hearty in their well-wishing.

Etiquette of Greeting Cards

A well-defined code of etiquette has grown up around the sending of greeting cards. Standards of good taste demand certain little courtesies in connection with these messengers of friendship, among them being the requirement that envelopes be addressed by hand, in ink, not by typewriter nor in pencil. Greeting cards are personal and demand the personal touch.

It is important, too, that the initials, spelling, and address be correct, as it mars the recipient's pleasure in receiving the card if carelessness is shown in this respect. Some people regard it as a personal affront if their name is misspelled, particularly by a friend.

If two envelopes are furnished, put the address on the outer one in full; leave the inner one unsealed and write on it only the name of the recipient.

If there is any doubt about the card's reaching its destination safely, write the sender's name and address on the flap of the envelope; this will serve both for a return address and to notify the recipient of the sender's latest address.

Cards to a business friend or acquaintance should usually be sent to the business address. If the sender is acquainted with the recipient's wife the card should be sent to both at the home address; if the sender has not met the recipient's wife, her name should not be included in the address of the card; in any case, she should not be addressed at the business man's office.

The married business woman who uses her maiden name at her office should include that name in italics under her joint signature with her husband, as "Mr. and Mrs.," on their Christmas cards. The unmarried business woman should use her first name and not "Miss" in signing her Christmas cards.

I THINK OF THEE

I think of thee when early morn
Lights up the lea,
When shimmering lights the East adorn
And gild the sea and gild the sea.
In gloomy night when on my way
Dark storms arise.
Thou art the star whose beautious ray
Illumes my way.
I hear thee where the silvery wave
Breaks on the shore,
In silent wood I listening crave
One whisper more, one whisper more.
I hear thee though thou art afar,
Yet still art near,
When comes the eve with dew distilling car
Art thou not here, art thou not here?

About Greeting Cards

The sending of greeting cards is not ... From the cave man who chiselled ... expressions of friendship on stones, ... centuries and times when papyrus ... birch branches, jewels, the ribbon-... of royalty, or sealed missives sent ... by fleet messengers linked the roy-... of the world together, until the pres-... for a few pennies will send ... to any part of the world, the greet-... in the necessary form of express-... of goodwill or illness.

... sometimes the greeting was possible ... how: today it is used by ... Greeting cards, especially at ... Christmas, are sent alike by kings ... subjects. The finest art work of ... the world is for both, for while ... the castles of Europe and the high ... in their own land command the ... highest artists and verse-writ-... ers, individual cards for their ... friends, the same talent produces de-... lightful dollar greeting card. In ... addition to the royal greetings often ... set with jewels or carved trink-... ets, the French court great gallants ... sent ivory plaques to their ... ladies, one of these that the ... Duchesse de Valliere read the love ... of Louis XIV to her successor, ... Madame de Maintenon, that her reign was over.

This Year's Modernistic Note in Greeting Cards

... fall and early winter season ... has many important greeting days: ... Christmas with its spirit of frivolity; ... New Year's when good fellowship is in ... the air, Christmas and New Year's with ... their open and hearty well-wishing. ... Modernism will appear to mark these ... occasions, using the modernistic in-... fluence to a certain extent. Colors are bright ... and there is a certain boldness has crept ... into designs. There is not, how-... ever, to be an outburst of cubes and ... circles as is found in the modernistic ... textiles and designs. The envelope linings, ... however, are noticeably riotous in both ... design and color.

The 1928 Christmas Cards

... Someone has said that there are no ... new subjects in Christmas cards, that ... the message can never change its ... theme, that the paper, printing, color-... ing and design for expressing it can very ... little change.

... The 1928 offers a great variety of ... new cards. All are very col-... orful and brave in hearty ... tone. Gone are the delicate ap-... proaches and holly twigs that ... formed the sole decoration of a Christ-... mas card. In their place we have big all-... over designs, pictures that tell a Christ-... mas story with but a word or two of ... sentiment, and unusually lovely etchings, ... hand colored and in many instan-... ces ready for framing.

... Christmas cards are of two kinds, per-... sonal and informal. The first are printed ... or engraved with the sender's name and ... a card is usually sent to the entire ... circle of friends and acquaintances. The in-... formal cards are usually selected from ... the sender's list; they may be re-... ligious, dignified, clever, amusing, or wit-... ty.

... In the personal cards there are new ... styles in signatures. The use of the send-... er's names instead of the formal ... "Mr. and Mrs." is sponsored this year. ... The initials or handwritten signature is ... popular for 1928. It has the virtue of ... adaptability to almost any card and ... gives a desirable personal touch, al-... though of course it entails having a spe-... cial made of the signature. If it is ... desired to use a calling card plate for ... your Christmas cards, the lettering ... on the calling card can usually be matched ... in the infinite variety of greeting ... cards available.

... The informal cards are bigger and ... better than ever. The repetition of the ... motif design inside the flap of the enve-... lope sometimes takes the place of the ... envelope linings, and there are many ... other novelties. The modernistic ... trend shows in black backgrounds for ... bright spot color designs. Silhouettes are ... popular.

... Designs for both the personal and in-... formal 1928 cards include old English ... scenes, New England scenes, New ... York scenes, and some scenes as late as ... 1850. Ships prance colorfully on bounc-... ing seas, and there are animals, hunting ... scenes, Bible scenes, classic madonnas, ... and many toy and Santa Claus designs es-... pecially for children.

For the New Year

... Many people send New Year's cards, ... sometimes in preference to, sometimes in ... addition to, Christmas cards. They are ... particularly appropriate for business ... friends and for those who, for one rea-... son or another, have not been remembered ... at Christmas. Many New Year's cards ... incorporate a word of thanks for a ... Christmas remembrance and the 1929 ... cards will be like the Christmas ones,—... very gay and hearty in their well-wishing.

MY CHRISTMAS LIST

Looking over my "Christmas List,"
There's one name I blot with tears,
It was always first, with a Christmas wish,
Through all the by-gone years.
But maybe if plenty of love I tie,
Around my gifts this year,
Perhaps it will help me some, to forget,
The one I have blotted with tears.

—ETHEL G. HOWE.

It does not take long for a hungry rodent to ruin a valuable fruit tree. In regions where rodents are prevalent, wire, wooden veneer, or some other kind of protector should be placed around the base of trees, and all grass and weeds should be removed from near the base. Mice work at the crown of the tree, just beneath the surface of the ground and on the roots. They are controlled by poisoning. Ask your county agent, State Experiment Station, or the U. S. Department of Agriculture how to do it.

This is the time of year when time and thought can be spared for making the farm budget. Farmers' Bulletin 1564-F, recently issued under the title of "Farm Budgeting" by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, tells how to make a budget and how to use it in deciding upon crops and livestock for the coming year, and gives sources of information helpful in working it out. This bulletin can be secured by writing to the Department of Agriculture.

Church Notes—Whist Party—Hiking Club—Meeting of Mothers' Club.

A group of young people met at the parsonage on Friday evening for the purpose of organizing a Christian Endeavor. The following officers were elected:

President—Ernest Merrill.
Vice President—Evelyn Stone.
Secretary and Treasurer—Irene Walker.

The following officers were appointed by the president:

Chairman of Prayer Meeting Committee—Mrs. S. Cross.
Chairman of the Lookout Committee—Theron Brown.
Chairman of the Social Committee—Beatrice Severance.
Chairman of the Music Committee—Gertrude Sherburne.
Chairman of the Floral Committee—Alice Walker.

The first meeting was held last Sunday with Rev. Clifford M. Cross as leader. It is hoped that this organization will meet the needs of the young people. Not only the young people are invited, but older ones as well are urged to join as they are needed. The Christian Endeavor from now on will take the place of the regular Sunday evening preaching service beginning at 7:30. Services are as follows: Sunday school at 10 a. m.; church service at 11 a. m.; Christian Endeavor at 7:30 p. m. Leader, Mrs. Evelyn Stone. Topic, "God's Gift to the World."

Bible Class Monday evening at 7:30. This class meets around at the various homes once a week for the purpose of taking a course of study under the leadership of the pastor, Clifford V. Cross. The title of this course of study is "How to Enjoy the Bible." Much interest is being taken in this class and it is hoped that more, both young and old, will join.

The first whist party of the season was entertained by Addie Andrews, Beatrice Severance, Doris Stearns and Violet Plummer at Masonic Hall, Dec. 5. Jordan's Orchestra of Fryeburg furnished music. Refreshments of frankforts, cake, doughnuts and coffee were served. Marion Hurd and Ray Harmon received first prize and Bert Stone and Louise Seavey the consolation.

The Ladies' Hiking Club took their weekly outing on Thursday of last week. The hike was entertained by Ella and Ina McKeen. Eight ladies walked to No. 4, through the Swain Road to the McKeen home, where the hostess served sandwiches, coffee and apples. Although there were few members out, it was voted one of the most enjoyable times yet this season.

Because of the bad snow storm and blow, there was no school on Monday.

Julia Guptill of West Lovell is boarding at Mattie McAllister's and attending the village school.

Gertrude Sherburne and Beatrice Severance took the Campfire Girls to Portland, Saturday, to do some shopping and see a show.

There will be a meeting of the Mothers' Club, Friday afternoon, Dec. 14, at the schoolhouse. It is hoped that there will be a good attendance. All women, young and old, who are interested in child welfare, are urged to be present. Mrs. Best will be prepared to give a good talk so let the mothers of the town do their part by attending these meetings.

KEZAR FALLS

Kiwanis Ladies' Night Observed—Macbeth Club Entertained—Mrs. Stearns Dead.

It was Ladies' Night with the Kiwanis Club on the evening of December 4th, and they observed it in a very fitting manner in Milliken Hall where they were served with a very nice supper furnished by the Carrol West Post. The banquet was followed by some very able speeches, Orman L. Stanley presiding. Deane S. Paine, Howard O. Hough of Portland, and Dr. Center of Steep Falls are ardent Kiwanians. Mrs. Frank Emery sang the solos, "My Little Old Home Town," and struck a responsive chord in every heart. She responded to the vociferous encore by giving the delighted audience "When Grandma Was A Girl," which was followed with music furnished by the orchestra composed of Florence Stanley, Frank Lord, Edison Hadlock, Bertrand Huber and William Durgin. The Kiwanians voted the evening a grand success.

Mrs. Fred Whiton entertained the Macbeth Club on the evening of December 7, the rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion and a literary program of interest was enjoyed. The members united in observing Mrs. Eugene Edgecomb's natal day and presenting her in a few well chosen words, with a beautiful fernery, this Club seems "never to weary of well doing."

Mrs. Sarah Lord was the guest recently of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Churchill.

Mrs. Roy Lord was hostess, Tuesday afternoon of last week to the Ladies' Circle. Seventeen is quite a crowd and regardless of the weather they enjoyed the readings and each others society.

Mrs. David Stearns who sustained a fractured hip by a fall several months ago, passed away December 6th. Services were held at her home Sunday afternoon, by Rev. Arthur Callaghan. Two selections were sung by Mrs. Elwood Elliott and W. T. Norton. Mrs. Stearns was essentially a home body and model housekeeper, she will be greatly missed.

Mrs. Carrie Mason has gone to Manchester, N. H. to stay a few weeks with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Carleton.

REDDING AND SHAGG POND

Mr. and Mrs. Welsford Lapham were Saturday night visitors at Lynn Farrar's.

Virgil Rowe spent several days in Rumford, recently, on business.

Mrs. Raymond Rowe and daughter are visitors at H. E. Rowe's.

Violet Cole was home from Buckfield, over the week-end.

Several from here went to West Sumner and were vaccinated, last Wednesday.

Norman Bisbee has gone to Rumford for a while.

The lucky deer hunters in this vicinity were: H. E. Rowe, Virgil Rowe, Harlan and Aiden Redding.

Prof. and Mrs. Hubert Redding are settled in their new home. We are very pleased to have people like Mr. and Mrs. Redding settle here, as it means so much to a small place like ours.

Mrs. Georgie Fish has gone to Readfield to work for Mrs. Butman.

SOUTH OTISFIELD

Mr. Belune from New York has been stopping at Fletcher Scribner's a few days.

Fred Fortier is some better at this writing.

Howard Ames has been working for Conny Severy.

Mrs. Lottie Edwards is some better at this writing.

Mrs. Annie Chute from Crescent Lake has returned home after caring for Mrs. A. S. Ames a few days.

Howard Ames sold a nice pig to Edd Lamb.

Mrs. Lizzie Whittum is sick.

Fairfield Edwards from Johnson Hill visited his daughter, Mrs. Fred Fortier.

Christmas Health Seal Sale in Oxford County.

The Christmas Health Seal Sale is launched throughout Oxford County and various committee members in their respective towns are busy making constructive plans appointing sub-chairmen and distributing seals.

Norway, Rumford and South Paris are handling their seal sale by mail. This seems to meet with the approval of the citizens of the county and the response is very gratifying.

North Newry, with Miss Hazel Chamberlain as chairman, is the first town in Oxford County to make any definite returns.

The money derived from the sale of Christmas Seals and Health Bonds is used for tuberculosis prevention and cure. Twenty-one public health nurses are maintained principally through Seal Sale funds and are doing much towards the elimination of tuberculosis in Maine.

Following is the list of chairmen for Oxford County:

Albany, Miss Gertrude Harrington and Mrs. Harlan Bumpus.
Andover, E. Fay Dresser.
Bethel, Mrs. Betty Thurston.
Brownfield, Prin. Horace Morse, Miss Georgia Getchell.
Buckfield, Mrs. Helen Shaw.
North Buckfield, Mrs. Washington Heald.

GREENWOOD—ROWE HILL

Theodore Dunham returned to his work at Tebbett's Mill, last week. He and Edgar are boarding with their brother, Clyde at Locke Mills.

Charles Libby has a wood job on Billing's Hill, Woodstock, he has built himself a camp and stays there through the week.

Callers at Elton Dunham's, Saturday, were Misses Ruth and Alice Andrews of Bryant Pond.

There was a snow fall of over a foot, last Sunday night. The young folks are enjoying their skiis.

Wesley Ring and Linwood, with two teams, broke the roads through here, Tuesday.

The school children are working on an entertainment to be given Friday evening, December 21, when they will have their Christmas tree.

School will close December 21, for one week.

Mrs. Rowena Dunham, when moving to Locke Mills, left the Sunday School without an organist. The vacancy will be filled by Winifred Bryant and Norma Ring, each in turn, with Murray Ring accompaning them on his saxophone a part of the time.

Those having 100 per cent in spelling, for the week ending December 7, are: Winifred Bryant, Norma Ring, 8th grade. Vera Dunham, David Libby, 4th grade. Mabel Libby, 1st. grade., missing once, Albert Ring, 4th. grade.

Milking machines may partly replace the "hired man," but are they practical from the standpoint of sanitation? They are, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture dairy specialists, if they are thoroughly washed and sterilized immediately after each milking, either by chemicals or by heat. Results of experiments show, however, that uniformly lower bacterial counts were obtained from heat than from the use of chemicals.

Miss Lizzie S. Davis

After an illness of a few weeks, Miss Lizzie S. Davis died Friday forenoon at her home on Myrtle Street. She was found unconscious on the floor and lived but a short time. Her age was 71 years.

Miss Davis was the daughter of Josiah and Elizabeth (Stickney) Davis, and was born in the town of Denmark, where the first part of her life was spent. Later she was at Norway, where she did dressmaking. From Norway, she went to Paris Hill, and some years ago came to South Paris and purchased the house on Myrtle Street where she has since lived.

The nearest relatives of Miss Davis are a niece, Ethel (Egan), wife of Dr. Whitman Stickney, and a nephew, Edward Egan. Both of them reside in Massachusetts.

Miss Davis was a supporter of the Universalist Church in South Paris and was a regular attendant at its services up to her last illness.

The remains were taken on Sunday to Denmark for burial, with a service at that place.

Individual electric motors have been installed in connection with two job presses, also other improvements for economy and speed have been in order at the Oxford Democrat Office.

Assignments of justices for the 1929 terms of court have been made. Justice Guy H. Sturgis will preside at the February term for Oxford County at South Paris; Justice Wm. R. Pattangall at the May term at Rumford; and Chief Justice Scott Wilson at the October term at So. Paris.

Members of Executive Com.—W. H. Whitaker.

The first and second degrees were given to five candidates.

Mrs. Martha McDonald, Lillian and Elaine McDonald of Glen, N. H., spent the week-end with Mrs. McDonald's sister, Mrs. William H. Whitaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Keefe and Harold L. Meserve were in Portland over Sunday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Keefe.

Mrs. David Haley, who has been in Bridgton with her daughter, Mrs. Wendall McAllister, has returned to Fryeburg and is a tenant of Thomas W. Charles.

William H. Whitaker who is auditor of the State Grange is attending the grange meeting at Augusta.

Gerry Cousins of Portland with a party of friends spent the week-end at Smith's camp at Lovewell's pond.

Dr. Charles E. Harris is at Memorial Hospital, North Conway, where he will remain for a time for medical treatment.

Among those who entertained large bridge parties on Saturday were Mrs. J. Curtis Wiley and Mrs. Arthur C. Pendexter.

Loren Hurd has gone to Madison, N. H., where he will be employed.

SOUTH RUMFORD

Mrs. Margaret Thurston

The death of Mrs. Margaret (McKenzie) Thurston occurred Thursday morning, Dec. 6, at 5:30 o'clock at the home of her son, Arthur Cameron, of South Rumford. Mrs. Thurston who had been in failing health for a number of years, suffered a shock two weeks previous to her death.

She was born in Nova Scotia in March, 1852, and was living in Worcester, Mass., at the time of her marriage to John Cameron. To them one son was born, Arthur Cameron, well known resident of South Rumford. Her second marriage, to Samuel Thurston, took place 34 years ago at Rumford Center, the Rev. Mr. Keith officiating. Mrs. Thurston has continued to live at South Rumford in the same home with her son and family. She was a member of the Rumford Center grange and of the Rumford Center church and was active in the work of these organizations until declining health necessitated the relinquishing of outside activities.

Surviving are one son, Arthur Cameron and an only grandchild, Marshall Cameron, of South Rumford.

Mrs. Alma Harriman is spending her vacation from the shoe shop helping Mrs. C. F. Ridlon dispose of Christmas toys and useful presents. She invites you to call and see her and the goods, upstairs over Ridlon's Grocery Store, Norway.

When in doubt about what to give for a Christmas gift, send the Advertiser for a year. Only $2.00 and a weekly reminder of your thoughtfulness.

The Christmas Seals

Leaders in various professions and organizations throughout Maine are heartily endorsing the sale of Christmas Health Seals and Bonds in the State. This demonstration proves that the work carried on by means of funds raised by this method is far-reaching in its results and is satisfactory and well-regarded. Only five per cent of all money derived from the sale of seals is sent out of Maine; this is the percentage which all states in the country forward to the National Tuberculosis Association for its nation-wide work, the remaining 95 per-cent being used in the State for health activities, principally for the prevention and cure of Tuberculosis.

Following is a well-worded endorsement from Dr. Clarence F. Kendall, State Commissioner of Health, in which he speaks most emphatically of the good accomplished through the sale and urges the Maine citizens to purchase all they can:

"The sale of the Christmas seals put out by the National Tuberculosis Association as a means of raising money for the promotion of campaigns against tuberculosis began several years ago. Tuberculosis, once the leading cause of death in our State of Maine, now ranks seventh; yet, we still have too many deaths from this disease, which can be prevented and cured. The sale of these seals in our state is sponsored by the Maine Public Health Association, and the proceeds are used in helping maintain nursing services in various counties of the state. Every seal purchased means added funds for this work. Every person should purchase as many seals as possible, so that sufficient funds will be provided for carrying on this important work of educating people as to the dangers of tuberculosis, and in the principles of right healthful living, so that this disease may be reduced to its lowest possible number of cases."

YOU ARE ESPECIALLY INVITED

Miss Ava L. Leach of South Paris invites her friends to come in and see the big line of Christmas presents at the Ridlon Upstairs Toy Shop at Norway.

Miss Leach is all around help at the Ridlon Store since Mrs. Ridlon was disabled by an accident some months ago.

NORTH NORWAY

I was so provoked that the Editor was so disposed that he did not add to the item concerning the Sunday school held here than an invitation was extended to adults as well as to the youths, I said, "Never again." But I attended the school last Sunday, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hussey, and changed my mind. There were twenty-one present counting Mr. and Mrs. Hussey, the superintendent and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Holt, Mrs. Alma Judkins and Flora Cummings as visitors and the two teachers present, Mrs. Effie Heath and Miss Winona Young, the other teacher, Mrs. Ada Cox, was absent, having invited Sunday guests at her home. The rest were children and young men and an alert, wide-awake Sunday school was held. After the lesson's half hour, the superintendent, Mr. Holt, told some interesting things about Paul's life and we left for our several homes, thanking Mr. and Mrs. Hussey for their hospitality in opening their home to us. Next Sunday, Dec. 16, the school will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Heath. It is hoped that even a larger attendance will be there then, at Mr. and Mrs. Hussey's.

Read some of the Wild West Stories on the cattle ranches and you may get an idea of the excitement Everett Morse and Fred Austin had for several days as they, with their dogs, went to the aid of the Thurston boys, Norway Center, who had been for several days trying to capture four head of young stock which had "gone wild." The stories of some in the party getting treed and others stepping aside just in time not to be trampled upon and finally of a capture of one that ran out on the ice of Little Pennesseewassee, breaking through, getting its spirits dampened in the ice water and of another getting into a bog, where with their ropes it was put onto sled and hauled home. The other captures were exciting but mild in comparison. Everett may well be proud of his dog, "Prince," for not only was it up with the others in the fray, but endured until the last creature was in the barn while the others played out.

George F. Hill, Norway, wants to buy a limited amount of spruce and fir pulpwood. See ad in this issue.

NORTH BRIDGTON

Teachers Defeated

Bridgton Academy opened its hoop season Friday evening by swamping the Gorham Normal School basketeers by the score of 42 to 21. The local team was in the lead throughout and used a clever passing game during the fray. The visitors laked a consistent attack. The summary:

NORWAY VICINITY

Arthur Roy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roy celebrated his fourth birthday this week. He entertained several of his small friends and games were played and refreshments were served by Mrs. Roy.

Mrs. Fred Faneuf, Mrs. Mary Kimball, Mrs. Harold Nevers, Miss Irene Nevers, and Mrs. Albert Roy were at Portland, Saturday.

This is the week that stores are dolled up for Christmas and some attractive decorations are in evidence. Besides those mentioned last week are the following who have joined the ranks: L. P. Pike Co, James Favor, the Norway Laundry, Bond's Radio Store, W. C. Leavitt Co., Ford's Radio Store, W. C. Leavitt Co., the Norway Buick Co., Elliot A. Fuller's, R. L. Cummings, Raymond Dunham's, Greenleaf's Restaurant and Central Maine Power Co. Especially attractive decorations are the illuminations at A. L. Clark Co., Ashton's Drug Store, F. P. Stone's, Charles F. Ridlon's, and Job Merchant's. Christmas greens and colored lights are being displayed at numerous residences.

Mt. Hope Rebekah Lodge will meet Friday eening in regular session. The entertainment planned will be postponed owing to the Christmas activities.

Twenty-nine loaded cars were sent from the freight yard last week, and about the same number as hauled out one year ago. Pulp wood is the principle freight in car load lots. Average shipments at present are twenty cars a week.

A large congregation attended the Community Union service at the Congregational Church, Sunday evening. Rev. Pliny A. Allen was the speaker and based his discourse on the theme, "The Longest Faith." Rev. Raymond Morgan was in charge of the meeting. It was announced that offerings taken at the meetings this month are for the Church Vacation School except next Sunday evening when the collection will be given to the W. C. T. U. for Christmas work. A White Christmas service will be conducted next Sunday evening, when gifts wrapped in white paper may be brought. A generous freewill offering is desired that Christmas cheer may enter homes not otherwise provided for.

Santa Claus played host at the Kiwanis Club luncheon at South Paris this Thursday afternoon. Each member carried a gift not exceeding fifty cents in value and there was a general exchange and a jolly time.

A cast has been selected and rehearsals are in progress for the drama "A Mad Honeymoon" to be given under the auspices of the Norway-Paris Kiwanis Club.

Wm. H. McDaniels of Stone & McDaniels has returned from Boston where he attended a meeting of over 400 Oakland Pontiac dealers from all parts of New England who assembled on Wednesday at the Statler Hotel, to hear the complete details of the new Pontiac Six, which will be seen here shortly. A novel feature of the Boston meeting was the use of the Fox Movietone, or talking motion pictures, through which talks by A. R. Glancy, President, and W. R. Tracy, Vice President of the Oakland Motor Car Co., were presented. In addition the sales program and many new enthusiasm advancements were outlined by W. R. Sawyer, eastern sales manager, W. E. Fellows, advertising manager, R. S. Secord, service representative, and Fred Sills, manager of the Boston District.

Gordon Richardson attended the recent Boys' Conference in Portland.

Norway Lodge, 1614 Loyal Order of Moose will hold their regular meeting Friday evening, Dec. 28. A ladies' night supper at 6:30 and the ladies of Moose heart Legion are invited.

Fishing through the ice is a favorite pastime at North Pond with fair catches reported. Ice was about six inches thick last week.

Scrapers are used in removing snow banks between the sidewalks and road along Main Street. This gives room for parking next the curb and easy access to the stores. The snow is dumped on vacant lots behind the buildings and along Pennesseewassee stream.

Miss Irene Nevers is home from the Farmington Normal School for the holidays.

The young ladies of the grange will decorate the Grange Christmas tree Saturday forenoon. They would like to have gifts, corn bags, candy, and other decorations you wish put on the tree sent in as early as convenient.

J. S. Smith, "Jack" of Norway Lake, has charge and shovels the snow from roofs of the following cottages: Ed and Louis Paret's, Charles Schibener's and A. Kessler's. We were in error in our item last week.

Told at the Wearies: Do you know if you dip a nail in hot water and hammer it while it is hot and wet, you will keep the plaster from cracking?

The Christmas trade began last Saturday, a week ago and still continues. Norway merchants wear smiling faces.

Elmer Morrill and Frank Buck are sawing pulpwood for George Westleigh on the Tubbs lot, which Mr. Westleigh recently purchased of James Tubbs.

Christmas trees seem to be the attraction just now, as nearly every car has one or two aboard and men, women and children are busy gathering them from all directions. The Christmas spirit is surely among us now and thoughts turn to the reliable old farms which furnish the trees to make merry Christmas in the homes.

The many friends of Frank E. Frost will be interested to know that he is some better in many ways, but suffers much pain from the injury he received last summer when he fell from a load of hay.

Virgil Herrick has finished his job of cord wood and is sawing pine logs.

Willard Berry is trucking pine to South Paris from his wood lot which he recently bought of George Westleigh.

Mrs. Ellen Hammond has returned from her visit with her son and is stopping with her daughter, Mrs. Herman Lewis, on Danforth Street.
